The Pizza Party

The race for County Legislator in Denning, Hardenburgh, Olive and Shandaken was a close one, once again. Two years ago Kathy Nolan beat John Parete by a handful of votes. This time John beat Kathy Nolan by twenty-three votes after all the absentee ballots were counted. The electoral process in this rural legislative district holds a lesson in political enlightenment. Lesson one is that every vote counts, but the real lesson is that Political Party identification may work on an impersonal state and federal level, but town and county representatives are people we know, and people come first and party second.

John Parete was Ulster County Democratic Chair and Democratic Town Chair for many, many years. He also was the head of the Democratic Board of Elections. (Contd. Pg. 6)

A Round About Tri-Valley

- Carol Furman

Some of you may remember that years ago the Townsmen was created to share the news of our local Tri-Valley School District communities. Since that time, this weekly publication has morphed into a paper sharing news items from all over Sullivan and Ulster counties. Years ago, Polly Hill did an excellent job writing her weekly column and she enjoyed sharing "local" news. In 2012, when Polly could no longer write the column, I volunteered to take over and tried to maintain a local flavor in my weekly writings. Some weeks my column, "A Round About Tri-Valley" was the only Town of Neversink news in the Townsmen. I have written close to 400 articles for the Townsmen between 2012 and 2019. There was never, not ever, a time when I wrote "no news this week"! When I knew I was going to be away for a week, I always sent two articles to the Townsmen staff so they would have one to print during my absence. Some of my articles were more interesting and enlightening than others, I'm sure. Each Monday morning I would begin typing my one-page article, which had to be in the Townsmen box on the porch of the Grahamsville First Aid Building by Thursday evening. Monday's writing was a work in progress and was added to, deleted from and rearranged several times before submission. If I didn't happen to have one full page of news, I searched for timely facts, stories or poems to fill the page. The Townsmen staff could always depend on receiving one type-written page from me each week.

As I wrote my articles I tried to be considerate, to use common sense and to not cause any one embarrassment. Some news, which I would hear around town, was not meant to be shared in my news column. I tried to steer clear of politics and I never wrote when anyone was leaving for a vacation as this was an advertisement that their home would be uninhabited. As I wrote my articles each week I had to keep in mind that the Townsmen was sent to many parts of our country. Local residents, who have relocated to various parts of the country, still subscribe to the Townsmen and enjoy reading the local news. It is with mixed emotions that I say that effective January, 2020, I will no longer be submitting my "A Round About Tri-Valley" articles to the Townsmen. After eight years and close to 400 articles, I feel the time has come for a younger person, who has several hours of extra time each week, to begin writing the weekly "local" news column. I am sure that the Townsmen staff would be pleased to have someone volunteer to fill my shoes. I have appreciated the privilege of writing for the paper and have welcomed the challenge each week. Thank you to the many people who have read my articles and commented on them. May God bless each of you, especially during this holiday season.

Words of Wisdom: Leaves are like ideas of the mind. They come when needed. They flourish and give life, light and wisdom. When ideas have served their purpose, they need to be swept away. We constantly sweep out the old to make way for the new. (Jan McKeithen)

Ed Notes: As I read Carol's column this week and learned of her decision, I truly had mixed emotions.

I do agree with every word she wrote. Carol did a wonderful job, and she is so right, she never once missed getting her column to me every week in a timely fashion. There was a lot more to writing the column every week than Carol mentioned - for example, the times when I misplaced her column and would call her in a state of frenzy hoping she still had the copy on her computer. She was always one step ahead of me, and always saved the copy for a few days. Carol never let me down and she never let her community down. I will miss her words of reassurance that let our readers know our local community still exists and how she expressed what they were doing. I will miss her Words of Wisdom.

Carol's job as a volunteer columnist for The Townsmen was much more than all she mentioned. Back when The Townsmen was young, as you can see from reading Days of Yore, there was no problem mentioning that someone was ill, and what they were recovering from, how many fires occurred, what was happening when they built the tunnels, etc.. In today's world, it is not that easy to wish someone in own community well, as we all know. Carol did not bend the 'new social rules' and was still able to make those who she knew were experiencing ill health, the loss of a family member or other hardship know that they were acknowledged. She also made sure that all of the positive activities in the area were equally expressed, in a very delightful and informative way.

Yes, The Townsmen has grown, and so has our community. You would think more people, more news! Not necessarily so. In today's busy world when so many nice little things are passed by or forgotten, it took a lot of courage and understanding for Carol to pursue her job and get enough 'good news' each week for her column. Not an easy job.

Yes, we will miss you Carol and your sincere contribution to The Townsmen each week. I know there are many of our readers who share my feelings.

I am also quite certain that every one of our readers does wish you well and understands and considers your resolve. I know those many hours that you have always set aside for The Townsmen will quickly be filled with a lot of love and happiness with friends and family. You are definitely not a person that will retire from living and loving a full life.

The readers and The Townsmen staff join me in thanking you Carol for all those years and long hours of contributing to the news and happenings - A Round About Tri-Valley - that will remain forever, part of The Townsmen Legacy.

This year it will be our privilege for The Townsmen Staff to honor you at our Annual Christmas Dinner at Blue Hill Lodge. We do hope that Pete will escort you, and he will join us in honoring you.

Linda Comando and The Townsmen Staff

TV FBLA Attends National Conference in Washington DC

(From Pg. 1) The first stop was Six Flags Great Adventure in New Jersey exploring Fright Fest and the amusement park. Later that night, members continued their trip by bus to Washington D.C where they stayed at the Saint Gregory Hotel at DuPont Circle. Each morning the hotel served a fine breakfast of croissants, meats, cheeses, jams, bread, and yogurt.

The second day, students were joined by a member of the Guild of Professional Tour Guides of Washington, DC. for a bus/walking tour where they visited national monuments and historical sites including the Capitol Building, the White House, Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorials, and Arlington National Cemetery.

That evening members attended the opening session of the conference. Guest speaker, John Guydon, opened the session with a motivational speech about adapting to available resources and persevering to become successful. He first started a business selling candy in the 7th grade to pay for his lunch and football cleats and has established several businesses since including Duffled, a commercial text message platform, launched The Lassy Project, software that has the ability to notify entire communities about a missing child within seconds, and founded Startup Illustrated, which helps companies raise funding to grow and gain acceptance in their market.

The next day, members attended workshops that taught them about business, networking, and communication. The closing session ended the conference with another guest speaker, Anne Bonney, a business person who founded Different Shoe Enterprises and has held many leadership positions. She encouraged everyone to embrace change and communicate to become influential with others.

The members ended the conference with a walking night tour including the World War II Memorial, Korean War Memorial and Lincoln Memorial where there were beautiful lights throughout. It was an incredible experience for everyone. The entire FBLA group had a great time and brought back many memories that will last a lifetime.

Nature Column - Linda Comando

A tribute to the memory of all of the Townsmen Ladies that we have lost and loved so much... Peggy DeWire, Avril Pappa, Joan Hall, Polly Hill, Joyce Lockhart, Jean Helthaler, Karen Curry and Barbara Slater.

Bring Out the Holly

Its beginning to look a little like Christmas as neighbors begin decorating and getting into the holiday mood, perhaps adding a little holly to a wreath or garland.

Long, long before we went to the store to buy some silk holly for our annual Christmas décor, or planted ornamental holly in the garden holly was considered to be a sacred plant by some primitive cultures.

But even before that, holly had an interesting historical process responsible for the wide geographic distribution of genealogical lineages and cultural myths which is quite impressive. Ancestors of this group became isolated from the remaining Ilex (Holm Oak; family that includes holly) when the Earth mass broke away into the supermassive continents of Gondwana (present day South America, Africa, Arabia, Madagascar, India, Australia and Antarctica) and Laurasia (present day North America, Europe and Asia) about 82 million years ago, resulting in a physical separation of the groups and beginning a process of change of the Laurel Forests and Ilex to adapt to new conditions just waiting for humans to intercept and integrate the plants into their own cultures and traditions.

Eons later, early Europeans used holly as ornamentation during their winter solstice celebrations that occurred in late December. In the northern hemisphere, it was the longest night of the year signifying the gradual lengthening of days and coming spring - a cause for celebration. In Norse mythology, holly was associated with Thor, god of thunder, and holly plants grown by the home were thought to prevent lightning strikes. Ancient Romans used holly as decorations during Saturnalia, a festival dedicated to Saturn, god of agriculture and husbandry. Holly's symbolism of the new season made it an appropriate and a colorful ornament for winter festivities.

Over time, many customs from pagan celebrations were incorporated by Christians into religious holidays.

As holly was a common part of the winter landscape, it provided a free and easy way for even the poorest of families to decorate their homes for the Christmas holidays.

Over time, as survivor species of the holly genus adapted to different ecological niches, we eventually had our very own Holly (Ilex Aquifolium) found primarily in North America, Europe and Asia, with hundreds of species of the plant ranging from short shrubs to tall trees. The most common species grown in America is the American holly that is mostly associated with our current Christmas festivities. This type of holly grows up to a height of 15 to 30 feet. The foliage is deep green and the leaves are small and pointed. They bear bright scarlet berries. The leaves, characterized by a waxy texture and serrated edges, are dioecious - having male and female reproductive structures found on separate plants. Both male (staminate) and female (pistillate) hollies bloom in May or June, yielding white flowers. But only the females can produce berries. In order for this production to occur, a male plant must be near a female plant for the process of pollination to take place. Insects, like bees, help cross-pollinate female hollies, transferring pollen from the male to the female plants.

Holly berries are toxic to humans, resulting in nausea and severe stomachaches when ingested. Not so for some animals. Holly berries are a vital source of food for birds such as thrushes and blackbirds. Holly berries, which ripen in early winter, typically contain four seeds each. The birds that eat these seeds help scatter them for germination and the growth of new holly plants.

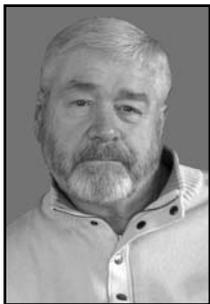

Today, holly is still used in our celebration of modern Christmas and winter holidays. While belief in their mystical powers may have dissipated, our American Christmas holly is just as beautiful as its ancestors, 82 million years ago. Now that is incredible! I wonder if Harry Potter knew all this when he chose holly for his wand?

Household Hints

Burnt Pots or Pans?

Pour 1 cup of white vinegar and 1 cup of water in the pot (pan). Heat the mixture until it boils and let it boil for a few minutes. Take the pot (pan) off the heat and place in your sink. Add 2 tablespoons of baking soda. Let it fizz until it stops. This will remove most of the burnt residue. Scour the rest, rinse and dry your clean pot (pan).

Skunk Train

Mysterious Book Report No. 397

by John Dwaine McKenna

The Skunk Train Inn is a sleazy, side-of-the-road motel up in northern California's sparsely populated Humboldt County. That's where the giant redwood trees grow, and it's the epicenter of the state's illicit pot-growing operations. So, it's not unusual for the inn to be used for pot transactions in author Joe Clifford's new novel, Skunk Train. (Down & Out Books, PB, $15.95, 248 pages, ISBN 978-1-64396-055-5).

Kyle Gill, who's only a few days shy of his sixteenth birthday, lives in a run-down trailer with his older cousin Deke, up in the backwoods town of Dormundt . . . stuck so far in the redwoods that sunlight needs a roadmap to find its way in there. Kyle's in high school, but he's been cutting classes for the past three weeks. When he comes home early one afternoon, he finds Deke and his business partner Jimmy, are sitting on one hundred pounds of marijuana they found abandoned at another dealer's house. Fearful that the owners of such a huge quantity will soon come looking for it, and fearful of their response, Jimmy arranges for a quick sale at the aforementioned Skunk Train Inn. That's where it all goes to hell in a handbasket.

The buyers turn out to be renegade undercover cops. Then some outlaw bikers show up, trying to hijack the cash and the crop . . . while a car full Mexican Cartel enforcers are on their way to make sure they get paid.

In the gunbattle that follows, two bikers are killed. Deke is killed. Jimmy and the bent cops flee the scene, while Kyle jumps into Jimmy's truck and heads out for San Francisco with one hundred thousand dollars in cash, determined to find his absent film director father. Hot on his trail are two renegade cops and a bunch of Mexican enforcers . . . all of whom are bent on revenge and getting their stolen property back.

But once in San Francisco, Kyle meets Lizzie. That's when everything changes in this high-octane-thriller from a master of crime fiction by the name of Joe Clifford. While this isn't his first rodeo, it's surely one of his best performances.

SC Community Chorus Presents "A Colonial Christmas" at Bethel Woods

(From Pg. 1) Suggested donation: $10 for adults and $5 for students.

The Sullivan County Community Chorus is thriving as it celebrates its 43rd year with more than 50 members strong! 2019 has been a banner year for the Community Chorus! After debuting at Carnegie Hall with MidAmerica Productions in late May, their 42nd Annual Spring Concert on June 9th, was presented as a tribute to long-time president, Lou Setren. The tribute included Dan Forrest's new masterwork, Jubilate Deo, accompanied by the largest orchestra in the chorus' history. Soon thereafter, members of the chorus took to the road to perform a concert for the National Federation of Democratic Women at their annual convention in Latham, NY. A whirlwind rehearsal schedule led to our 3rd annual Summer Stock concert in July at the Center For Discovery's Michael Ritchie Big Barn Center in Hurleyville.

Information about the concert and the chorus may be found at www.scchorus.org, on Facebook, or by contacting Choir Secretary, Diane Foster at 845-439-4458 or Choir Director, Kevin Giroux, at 845-594-6786.

Local Teens Encouraged to Apply to Join Governor's NYS Youth Council

Monticello, NY - There's a great opportunity for a local young person to serve on the New York State Governor's Youth Council!

Governor Andrew Cuomo has announced the formation of a New York State Youth Council, to increase participatory democracy. One youth from each county will be chosen to advise the governor and State and local policymakers on key issues facing young people and on outreach and communication strategies. The State is now accepting applications from youth to serve on this council.

"This is an incredible opportunity for New York's youth to represent their county on a statewide level - to offer solutions and policy recommendations to key issues facing young people: education, youth violence/cyberbullying, the opioid crisis, juvenile justice, environmental justice, and civic engagement," Sullivan County Youth Bureau Director Lesia Snihura said. "The Council will also address issues of vital relevance to young women and girls, including sexual assault and harassment, female empowerment, economic opportunity, and wage parity."

The Youth Council will be run by youth ages 13 to 21, who will gain hands-on experience in the democratic process, serving two-year terms. Once selected, Youth Council members will convene in Albany for orientation and training and then form regional teams to focus on specific policy issues.

Interested youth need to submit their application through an online portal, completing an essay and a video demonstrating their interest in one of the council's focus areas. Candidates will be selected based on their character, leadership skills, academic achievement, civic engagement, and community service.

Youth may apply at <https://nysylc.secure-platform.com/a/solicitations/home/1>; the deadline for submission is December 9.

If you have any questions, please contact Lesia or Sherrie at the Sullivan County Youth Bureau at (845) 807-0394.

SC Provides Free Cardio Testing to Local Emergency Responders

White Lake, NY - One of the leading killers in the fire service is heart attacks/strokes, often without any previous symptoms or signs. With that in mind, the Sullivan County Division of Public Safety recently brought in a cardiovascular exam company to offer testing to all emergency service personnel and their families.

The mission of Advanced Cardiovascular Diagnostics is to "focus on the prevention of significant debilitating events, ultimately saving lives." They do so by identifying people who are most at risk via testing involving echocardiograms, stress echocardiograms, carotid doppler, abdominal aortic ultrasounds, femoral doppler, transcranial doppler and pulmonary function evaluation.

"These tests were given, at no cost, to about 55 emergency service personnel and family members over a two-day period," said Sullivan County Public Safety Commissioner Rick Sauer. "The staff was courteous, caring and experienced, and made sure our folks had pre-test and post-test sit-downs with a doctor."

A complete report of all of the testing, including any follow-up recommendations, is being sent directly to participants and their physicians.

"This was a great service to those who give so much to this County," noted Sauer, "and I hope to provide it again next year."

The Olive Jar - By Carol Olsen LaMonda

The Pizza Party

(From Pg. 1) When he was not given the Democratic nod to run for Legislature two years ago, he ran on three other lines. This year, he added the PIZZA PARTY to his political choices.

The PIZZA PARTY is very appropriate because JP, John, is the owner of the Boiceville Inn in Olive. He is also the man who throws the pizza toward the ceiling and adds homemade sauce and cheese to produce the basic pizza that can be personalized to your pizza preference.

It also represents the reason he may have gotten elected. In a blue tide of voters, voters chose someone who opens the doors of the Boiceville Inn to the community. Organizations, like the Olive Democrats and Trout Unlimited, use the space for meetings. Teams from the school throw their pizza parties to celebrate the end of the season. Softball leagues meet there after games. John hosts fundraisers and welcomes mourners after a local funeral. John sponsors Breakfast With Santa and treats seniors to turkey dinners. He greets you by name.

Most voters would not identify John as Democrat or Republican. They voted for the person they knew and appreciated as a neighbor and friend. They voted for someone from the PIZZA PARTY.

Black Friday

The Tryptophan from yesterday's Thanksgiving Feast has not left my system, not even after a walk on the Ashokan Rail Trail with hubby and Hudson, so after a short nap, I am ready for another dose of turkey in the form of a white meat slices on white bread with mayo and salt and pepper. Maybe some of Heather's homemade cranberry relish too. Then my thoughts turn to the holiday season ahead.

My good friends, Donna and Marie, are out there at the stores shopping while I am shopping on-line and simmering turkey soup on the stove. My outdoor tree has lights and is awaiting my granddaughter's hanging of the pinecone ornaments. My outdoor pots are filled with long needle pine and boxwood with red swamp/bird berry twigs from Melissa and Jim's yard. Tomorrow the wreath gets hung on the gate, and I am done.

Now the fun begins with all the local holiday events. I hope you can simplify the trappings of the season and enjoy the festivities without stress and bother. Here are just a few of the delights of living in a small town, USA:

John Parete and his family sponsor this event, and friends help out to cook and serve. Every child gets to meet Santa and his elf and take home a gift. Breakfast is a hearty one of pancakes, eggs and sausage.

The Town of Olive's Annual Tree Lighting will be Saturday, December 12 at the Town Hall on Bostock Road in Shokan. It starts at six with cookies and hot chocolate and fun activities for the kiddies. Santa will arrive at 6:30 by Fire Truck.

This event is your time to do that last minute shopping. It is also a great time to wish your friends and neighbors a "Merry Christmas" or "Happy Hanukkah,"

Olive Free Library Annual Holiday Crafts Fair

On Saturday, December 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the Olive Free Library will hold its annual holiday crafts fair, 4033 Route 28A, West Shokan, NY 12494. Over thirty vendors will sell locally-made goods including goat milk soap, holiday decorations, handmade bags, wood bowls, handmade American Girl Doll clothes, maple syrup, aprons, jewelry, pottery, quilts, and much more. The day will include free craft activities, live music, and a hot lunch.

West Shokan: Each year the Olive Free Library holds a festive holiday fair featuring gifts made in the Catskills such as maple syrup, soap, pottery, quilts, felted wool hats and bags, jewelry and many other attractive, handmade and affordable gifts. The day's entertainment includes piano music by musician Lisa Menard, as well as a ukulele singalong by the Catskill Ukulele Club.

Shoppers can enjoy a hot lunch and a bake sale of homemade tempting treats. All proceeds from the lunch and bake sale benefit the library. The library will also raffle handmade sterling silver earrings, a "basket of cheer", a local artists bag, a pamper yourself bag, and a bag full of brand new books. People of all ages will gather to make pomanders (oranges with cloves stuck in them), as well as a children's author craft and reading at 10:30 a.m. The fair is brimming with holiday spirit at this community gathering place. FCSD Gets Valuable Classes on Nutrition before Thanksgiving

As part of the FCSD Wellness Committee and just prior to Thanksgiving, Bee Moser, M.S., Nutritionist for the SNAP-Ed New York, Hudson Valley Region at Cornell Cooperative Extension Sullivan County (CCE), spent time at the District on healthy eating, drinking and exercise at both

Benjamin Cosor Elementary School (BCES) and Fallsburg Jr/Sr High School. On November 15, Ms. Moser worked with sixth-graders in a program called "My Plate."

In the BCES Alternative gymnasium, students learned how to increase consumption of nutrient dense fruits and vegetables, whole grains, lean meats and low-fat dairy products. Ms. Moser used a colorful plate with these food group names when she asked the students what they knew about each type of food. The discussion was lively and thoughtful.

In the second half of the class, the Nutritionist became Physical Fitness Trainer. She took simple pieces of filmy material and demonstrated some fast-moving exercises with one of the sixth-grade teachers. She then had the children work in pairs with classmates while she shouted out steps to take in the exchange of the material in each pair. The kids were totally involved, passing the object overhead and between the legs of each other and getting quite giddy. At the end of the class, the students had learned valuable lessons about healthy eating and physical exertion. A great combination for well-being.

During two full days the following week, Bee Moser assisted by CCE's Beth Clancy-DiBartolo met all junior and senior high school physical education classes to demonstrate how much sugar is in many of the soft drinks they consume regularly and how dangerous and unhealthy they can be. A few students had soft drinks with them, and she amassed a collection of the bottles for her demonstration table. The discussions were quite animated. Students learned of alternatives to sugary drinks. At the end of each class, the CCE staff gave out a one-sheet do's and don'ts on healthy and non-healthy beverages as well as a plastic SNAP-Ed infused water bottle. They can place cut up fruits or vegetables, put them in an infuser in the middle of the bottle and pour in cold or hot water for a refreshing drink. Hopefully, they brought them to Thanksgiving Dinner.

Oh, Deer

On Nov. 20, ECOs Craig Tompkins and Charles Eyler III responded to Sunset Hill Road and Lakeview Drive in the town of Putnam Valley for a deer with a Halloween pumpkin bucket stuck over its nose and the handle caught in its antlers.

Concerned citizens and the local SPCA reported that the yearling buck had been seen with the bucket on its head for several days. When ECOs Tompkins and Eyler arrived on scene at around 2:30 p.m., they corralled the deer down a narrow path between a house and a large wood pile.

Eventually the deer ran into a fence and behind the wood pile where it was able to hit enough brush and sticks to knock the pumpkin bucket free. The deer reunited with a larger doe nearby and headed into the woods.

They helped out at the Pumpkin Party and hosted a successful Halloween dance. All events have been successful and we can't wait to see what our Tri-Valley Junior FBLA has planned next!

The Bethel Woods Youth Leadership Conference was on Wednesday, October 2 and approximately fifteen of our members attended. The trip gave the chance for young leaders to learn about problems around the world. The trip wasn't all about learning either, as we were also able to socialize with others from different schools. In the morning, we watched presentations by young enthusiasts. We learned about their life stories, problems, and what caused them to do what they do now. The presentations were extremely insightful and inspiring. In the afternoon, everyone on the trip was split into three groups. There were three activities planned for us to do. We learned how to talk about opinions respectfully and got a chance to talk about controversial topics that we were interested in. Everyone there was respectful and listened to everything you had to say. The whole experience was amazing and I would happily go again. I would say the trip was successful.

The Pumpkin Party took place on Friday, October 5. The Junior FBLA ran a tent that sold pumpkins. The money collected from the tent went to the Daniel Pierce Library. Kids from the Junior FBLA volunteered to work shifts for the tent. We let people pick out pumpkins, big and small. We helped carry them to their cars, and put their names on the pumpkins. We think the pumpkin tent did very well and we appreciate the work everyone put into it.

The last event the Junior FBLA set up was the 7th and 8th grade Halloween dance, which took place on Friday, October 25. The dance was extremely fun and one of the most successful dances yet. We put so much time and effort into this dance and you could tell. You could tell the amount of fun it was from the facial expressions to the dancing. (Cont. Pg. 11)

8th Grade Movie Night a Success

On the night of November 14, 2019, over forty Tri-Valley 8th grade students came back to school to watch the movie version of S.E. Hinton's timeless classic The Outsiders. Students had recently finished reading the novel in their 8th grade ELA class and were very interested in comparing the movie to the book. Several parents also attended the movie.

Thanks to everyone who was able to make it. It was a fun night for all!

Refreshments were served during an intermission and they were certainly a big hit—none were left at the end of the night!

The movie was put on by 8th grade ELA teacher Matt Haynes and 8th grade special education teacher Deb Swett.

Fallsburg 7th Graders Enjoy Trip to Albany

At the Capitol Steps are over 100 Fallsburg students with State Senator Metzger and Assemblywoman Gunther towards the front of the group.

On November 7, 2019 nearly 100 7th grade students and their teachers had the opportunity to travel to the NYS Capitol in Albany. Students visited the NYS Museum before meeting with NYS Assemblywoman Aileen Gunther and NYS Senator Jen Metzger and touring the Capitol building including the floors of both the Assembly and the Senate.

This was a great opportunity for students to learn more about our governmental process and recognize that there are real people in Albany who want to hear from students. Fallsburg Jr/Sr High School Principal Dawne Adams hopes to bring more students for a visit when the legislature is in session.

Just in time for Thanksgiving, Town of Fallsburg Lions Club Board of Directors member Tim Pantel brought generous donation checks to Hurleyville Food Bank, Federation for the Homeless and St. Andrew's Episcopal Church Food Pantry in South Fallsburg.

Kiwanis of Woodridge Honors Community Spirit

L to R: Dr. Sean Wall-Carty, Kiwanis of Woodridge Foundation President; Leah Exner, Denise Frangipane, Barbi Neumann-Marti, and Kiwanis of Woodridge Vice President Trevonne Gilliard.

The Kiwanis of Woodridge, New York Foundation, Inc. hosted its annual Honors Gala on November 2, 2019 at BHR in Rock Hill, New York to honor three women who have devoted their lives to making the Sullivan County community a better place to live and work: Leah Exner, Denise Frangipane, and Barbi Neumann-Marti. It was a fantastic evening and the room was packed with friends, relatives, and local dignitaries who came to honor and support these wonderful women.

Leah Exner has been teaching at Benjamin Cosor Elementary School for the last 30 years. She enjoys incorporating music, movement, and creativity into the learning process. In addition, she has written multiple songs for children to entertain them as well as to connect academic content through music. She has created a variety of imagination simulation learning stations including operating an ice cream café, information on which was published in the March, 1997 edition of "Creative Classroom" magazine. She earned a BA in Music from SUNY Buffalo and continued on to complete various coursework in education and children's literature at SUNY New Paltz and other higher learning facilities. She gained her Masters of Science in Elementary Education from Mount Saint Mary and holds a NYS Permanent Certification in N-6 Elementary Education. She has written and won many grants attached to community partnerships within the last fifteen years. She is a member of the NYSO Society of Women Educators, Tri-Valley Lions, Ulster Heights United Methodist Church PPR, and many other organizations include being a Food Pantry volunteer. She has been instrumental in the Sullivan Renaissance Healthy Community Initiatives Grant-Trail Wellness Project, helping to create a walking history trail around the Benjamin Cosor Elementary School property. When she's not teaching, working on the BCES trail, or volunteering elsewhere, Leah enjoys spending time with her husband of 26 years, Paul, their recently married daughter, Ashley, and son-in-law Michael Herbert, as well as their son, Andrew. Together they love camping, boating, fishing, snowmobiling, walking and motorcycling. Kiwanis of Woodridge salutes and honors Leah for her accomplishments and community spirit.

Denise Frangipane is a lover of trees, red wine and simple living. She has a volunteer background in environmental conservation, and a professional background in program development, community organizing and corporate event planning. Denise is the Executive Director of Sullivan Renaissance where she oversees the organization and operational activities; leads a team of nine and represents Sullivan Renaissance through its many community partnerships. Denise joined the Gerry Foundation in 2000 as part of the research and development team for Bethel Woods Center for the Arts and the Museum at Bethel Woods. She helped to establish and grow the Harvest Festival at Bethel Woods and worked closely with Sandra Gerry on the development of Sullivan Renaissance. She also worked with Sandra and the Gerry Foundation to create Sullivan 180, a non-profit dedicated to improving the health and wellness of Sullivan County. Denise has her undergraduate degree in English and Communications from SUNY Binghamton and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Marist College. She has been an elected Councilperson and volunteers in the areas of community organizing, environmental conservation and agriculture related initiatives. Denise currently serves as President of the Board of the Catskills Food Hub; is a member of the Board of Cornell Cooperative Extension, Sullivan County; a Trustee on the Board for the Museum at Bethel Woods and a Co-Chair of the Bethel Health Community Task Force. Denise lives in Bethel with her husband, Dr. William Pammer, their son Ian William Hawn Pammer and a black lab named Lincoln. Together they spend time outdoors as much as possible, hiking, skiing, growing garlic and keeping bees. Denise also enjoys taking detours, photography, kayaking and working in her gardens. Kiwanis of Woodridge salutes and honors Denise for her accomplishments and community spirit.

Barbi Neumann-Marti was born in Liberty, NY and at a young age developed a love for children which blossomed her senior year when she had the opportunity to volunteer in the elementary school in her district. She graduated from Mount Saint Mary College with a Bachelor's Degree and is now the Senior Unit Director for the Town of Wallkill Boys & Girls Club serving Northern Orange and Sullivan County. She is a driving force for youth development in our county. She takes pride in preparing youth to meet the challenges of adolescence and young adulthood to achieve their full potential by developing programs and experiences that help youth develop socially, emotionally, physically and cognitively. Everyone knows she is a fierce advocate for the children of Sullivan County. She has been a proud member of the Liberty Rotary Club for over 9 years. She lives her life following the Rotary motto of Service Above Self and practices the 4 Way Test as a standard by which one should live. Barbi also participates with the Eagle Scout Board of Review; Friend in Need; Federation for the Homeless; Country Cares for St Jude Kids Radiothon; Catskill Animal Rescue fundraising committee; and is a Paul Harris Fellow. Barbi also loves spending her free time with her family, which often extends to having extra kids around. Her children, daughters Dianna & Sofia, say she is the fun bus and the mom that everyone can count on. Weekends are often spent cleaning stalls at Twin Brook Farms and working with horses. Kiwanis of Woodridge salutes and honors Barbi for her accomplishments and community spirit.

Kiwanis of Woodridge is dedicating the proceeds from this event to help with the cost of cancer treatments for children within the Fallsburg Central School District. We are grateful that other local civic organizations are helping with this cause.

Shining a Light on Dark Skies County Planning Hosts Roundtable to Discuss Light Pollution

Monticello, NY - Municipal officials from all corners of Sullivan County gathered on October 22 at the Government Center to discuss the impacts of light pollution and share ways to promote "dark skies" principles in local municipal planning.

Light pollution is defined by the International Dark Sky Association as "the inappropriate or excessive use of artificial light...[which] can have serious environmental consequences for humans, wildlife, and our climate." Light pollution comes from a variety of sources, and roundtable participants shared concerns and examples from their own communities. Many spoke about lighting in large residential developments, hazardous glare to drivers, and light spillover from the County's urban areas.

Thought of traditionally as an urban issue, rural light pollution has grown with new development and the increased use of low-cost, powerful LED lighting. Though highly efficient, most white LED lighting has significant levels of potentially hazardous blue light. Participants in the dark skies roundtable reviewed material from the International Dark Sky Association that reported blue-rich white light sources increase glare and compromise human vision, especially in the aging eye. In natural settings, blue light at night has been shown to adversely affect wildlife migration and reproduction.

Outdoor lighting with strong blue content has a significantly larger geographic reach than lighting with a lower rating on the Kelvin Temperature scale - i.e. less than 4,000K. The World Atlas of Artificial Night Sky Brightness estimates that outdoor lighting retrofits using 4,000K lamps could increase light pollution by a factor of 2.5. Because of this, they are likely to worsen skyglow, making it more difficult to see stars and other features of the night sky.

Astronomy Club, attended the roundtable and spoke of the small but growing trend of astrotourism, in which people travel to observe meteor showers, photograph stars, and view other sky-related activities. Kocijanski has been contacted many times over the years by hopeful stargazers making the trek to the Sullivan Catskills.

"Limiting light pollution to maintain our view of dark night skies should be included in the quest to preserve our natural environment for the current and future generations," he stated. "A sense of awe and wonder that we get by peering into the heavens ought to be available to everyone."

Kocijanski currently directs people to the Catskill Mountains, Delaware River corridor, and Shawangunk Ridge, which all provide excellent viewsheds for astrotourists.

Several methods to mitigate light pollution were discussed amongst the group, which included local planning and zoning board members as well as consultant engineers providing municipal planning services. Strategies included site plan reviews to ensure projects utilized downward-facing lighting fixtures that prevent spillover onto neighboring properties and varieties of local dark skies ordinances. Because of the technical nature of lighting and lighting plans, the group agreed that more education on the subject was needed.

The Division of Planning provides technical assistance on a regular basis to municipalities on planning issues, such as light pollution. If you would like to organize a board-specific training in your community, contact Shannon Cilento at the Sullivan County Division of Planning & Community Development by calling (845) 807-0529 or emailing Shannon.Cilento@co.sullivan.ny.us.

Take a Quick Survey About the Local Job Market

Monticello, NY - Sullivan County's Center for Workforce Development (CWD) wants your feedback!

In order to better understand and serve the local workforce and the companies which employ them, the CWD has created a quick and easy-to-answer survey, which can be completed anonymously.

The survey, available at www.surveymonkey.com/r/3GGYRKJ, asks why people look for a new job, don't seek a new job, or find new job searches to be full of obstacles.

A separate survey will be distributed directly to employers and asks business owners to identify needs, challenges and ways they believe CWD can assist.

"The goal of both surveys is to develop strategies and services that will effectively respond to employees' and employers' concerns and difficulties," says CWD Director Laura Quigley. "Sullivan County tops the State in job growth, but we still face challenges in fulfilling our primary mission here at CWD: connecting local folks with local jobs."

"We truly appreciate any help the entire community can give us in making sure everyone who is willing and able to work gets that opportunity," she adds.

Chanukah -The Festival of Lights- for many of us brings back fond memories of childhood years and serves to renew our sense of identity. The Chanukah lights provide us with warmth, joy, strength and inspiration. Such is the purpose of community-wide celebrations to be held in Ulster County this Chanukah.

People of all ages will enjoy singing traditional Chanukah songs like "The Dreidel Song," and enjoying traditional foods.

Chabad centers all around the world are dedicated to spreading light and goodness in their respective communities. Chabad's answer to the darkness and destruction is an increase in light and warmth. Each year Chabad of Ulster County hosts a community-wide Chanukah celebration where the message of religious freedom is brought to the street.

Public dignitaries and community leaders will attend the ceremony and will assist in kindling the "Menorah". Following the kindling, the programs will feature music, hot latkes, chocolate gelt, hot apple sider and smiles!

Chanukah, a celebration for all time is highlighted by the kindling of the Menorah each night of the holiday. "It is a holiday that enriches our lives with the light of tradition" said Rabbi Yitzchak Hecht, director of Chabad of Ulster County. "In ancient times our ancestors rededicated the Temple in Jerusalem with the Menorah. Today, we rededicate ourselves to making this world a better and brighter place."

Chanukah also propagates the universal message that ultimately good will prevail over evil, freedom over oppression and light over darkness.

In its Chanukah outreach campaign, Chabad of Ulster County joins thousands of Chabad centers across the globe that are staging similar public displays of the Menorah and its symbolic lights. From Australia to Africa, Columbia to Hong Kong, New York City's ground zero to the White House lawn, hundreds of thousands will experience the joy of Chanukah with Chabad.

General Chanukah Information

Chanukah, the Festival of Lights, recalls the victory - more than 2,100 years ago - of a militarily weak, but spiritually strong, Jewish people over the mighty forces of a ruthless enemy that had overrun the Holy Land and threatened to engulf the land and its people in darkness.

The miraculous victory of religious freedom was compounded by a second great miracle that took place when only one jug of sacred oil was found still pure and sealed. The Maccabees poured the one-day supply of oil into the great Menorah and rekindled the Menorah that had been desecrated and extinguished by the enemy. The small amount of oil did not burn out at the end of the first day, but continued to burn continuously for eight days, until the special process for preparing new oil could be completed.

Lighting the Chanukah Menorah reminds us of these events and also serves as a symbol and a message of triumph of freedom over oppression, of spirit over matter, of light over darkness.

Today, Jews all over the world light their Menorah, in thanks to G-d who has saved them "To enjoy these days at this season." Each night an additional light is kindled until, on the eighth day, the Menorah is ablaze with eight beautiful lights.

Because of the great significance of oil in the story of Chanukah, it is traditional to serve foods cooked in oil. Among the most popular are delicious Potato Latkes.

The Syrians decreed that the teaching or studying of Torah was a crime punishable by death or imprisonment. But the children defiantly studied in secret; and when Syrian patrols were spotted, they would pretend to be playing an innocent game of Dreidel.

The Dreidel is a four-sided spinning top also called a Svivon, in Hebrew. On each side is a Hebrew letter: "Nun", "Gimmel", "Hay", and "Shin". The letters stand for the phrase "Nes Gadol Hayah Sham - a great miracle happened there". It is traditionally used to play a lively Chanukah game. On Chanukah, it is traditional to give all children Chanukah Gelt (money). This beautiful custom adds to the children's happiness and festive spirit. In addition, it affords us an opportunity to give them positive reinforcement for exemplary behavior, such as diligence in their studies, and acts of charity.

SC and Partners Relaunch Trailkeeper.org

Monticello, NY - A joint effort of Sullivan County's Division of Planning & Community Development, Catskill Mountainkeeper, the Delaware Highlands Conservancy, the Sullivan Catskills Visitors Association (SCVA) and Morgan Outdoors, Trailkeeper.org now contains more trails, more photos and more resources than ever before.

"Our beautifully redesigned website includes a choice of more than 80 trails, ranging from easy walks to moderate hikes to intense climbs, in every corner of the southern Catskills and Upper Delaware River Valley," says Sullivan County Planning Commissioner Freda Eisenberg, whose team co-manages the site. "And each listing comes with the details people need: interactive maps, difficulty levels, trail characteristics, natural resources, local communities, lodging and camping spots, even GPS coordinates."

"The relaunched Trailkeeper.org keeps both experienced and occasional hikers in mind, offering tips and info for all ages and skill levels - and the opportunity to suggest a new trail be added to the list," explains Ramsay Adams, founder and Executive Director of Catskill Mountainkeeper. "The site also pairs with Trailkeeper's Facebook page so that anyone can discover the latest updates and group events."

"The Sullivan Catskills possess many a treasure that can only be seen on foot or bicycle - which actually is also a great way to visit our vibrant downtowns," remarks Sullivan Catskills Visitors Association President & CEO Roberta Byron-Lockwood. "And why wait? I encourage everyone to work off some of that Thanksgiving pumpkin pie this weekend on one of these incredible trails!"

The relaunch was made possible through funding from a Sullivan County Plans and Progress Grant, plus contributions from Trailkeeper partners. The site, which is hosted and monitored by the SCVA's web manager service, was redesigned by Bethany Martin, owner and designer at B. Martin Studio (www.bmartinstudio.com).

The Final Stretch of the Ashokan Rail Trail Opens to the Public

The historic Ashokan Rail Trail opening marks the first public access in over 100 years to the North Shore of the Ashokan Reservoir. Two additional parking lots will be added.

KINGSTON, N.Y. - County Executive Pat Ryan is pleased to announce the public opening of the final section of the Ashokan Rail Trail (ART), which has been closed previously due to construction activities. This western segment of the ART, which includes a new 360-foot long bridge over the Esopus Creek, is being opened along with two additional public trailhead areas with parking and sanitary facilities. The newly opened trailheads are located at 3045 Route 28 in Shokan (Ashokan Station Trailhead) and 5080 Route 28A in Boiceville (Boiceville Bridge Trailhead); these new parking areas will add more than 100 additional spaces for the ART adding to those previously available at the Woodstock Dike Trailhead in West Hurley. The trailhead in West Hurley and nine miles of trail were officially opened on October 18th with another two miles of trail opened several weeks later, and in the first four weeks since the opening, more than 11,000 visitors have come to the ART.

The final stretch of the trail will be open on Thanksgiving, in time for families to visit over Thanksgiving weekend.

"I am thrilled to open the final stretch of this trail and new parking facilities and make this treasure fully accessible to the public for the first time in over 100 years," County Executive Ryan said. "This strategic investment positions us to bolster our reputation as one of the most trail-friendly counties in New York State and accelerate economic growth linked to our expanding tourism industry."

"Opening an additional two trail heads in Shokan and Boiceville for the Ashokan Rail Trail gives easier access to the amazing features on the middle and western portions of the trail," Legislator Kathy Nolan said. "These features include the new multi-purpose Boiceville Trestle, spanning the Esopus Creek and leading to stunningly beautiful wetlands areas, woods, and causeways. Within walking distance of Onteora High School, the new Boiceville trail head will not only serve residents of Olive and surrounding communities but also encourage tourists to travel further into the Catskill Park to begin their adventures. With businesses along the trail already reporting increased activity since the opening of the Woodstock Dike Trailhead less than a month ago, we can expect to see further beneficial economic impact in and around Shokan and Boiceville and perhaps into the western portions of Ulster County."

"The final access points to the Ashokan Rail Trail will provide visitors with easy access to the westernmost parts of the trail, where they will find amazing views of Ashokan Reservoir, the Catskills, and the Esopus Creek," DEP Deputy Commissioner Paul Rush said. "DEP has heard great feedback from many of our watershed neighbors and tourists who have enjoyed the eastern sections of the trail during the past month, and we know they will be equally thrilled by the experience and vistas near Shokan and Boiceville. I want to thank Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan for his partnership, which has provided the momentum and enthusiasm to get the entire trail open by Thanksgiving."

"The public will greatly enjoy the breathtaking beauty of the Boiceville section of the Ashokan Rail Trail, with its expansive, iconic view of the Catskill Mountain High Peaks," Maxanne Resnick, Executive Director, Woodstock Land Conservancy said. "At this time of thanks, we are so grateful to the County - its Executive and Legislature - for making this beautiful trail and treasured resource available to our communities to enjoy for generations to come." NICK NEEDS A KIDNEY TYPE O OR A(2)

Chronic Kidney Disease (CKD) progresses in stages and, if untreated, can lead to complete loss of kidney function. At CKD stage 5, when both kidneys fail completely, the only options for survival are dialysis or a kidney transplant. Nick is at stage 5.

More about our warrior Nick....

Nick was diagnosed with Tuberous Sclerosis Complex (TSC) at birth. TSC is a neurological disorder that produces seizures, tumors, and lesions that effect the organs of the body and can cause Autism. Nick battled with seizures his whole life from infantile spasms to adult grand-mal seizures. Finally the past year and half Nick's seizures have been controlled but his kidney function was deteriorating. May 2019 we heard the worst news that Nick's function was under 10% on both kidneys! Since then Nick has had 2 surgeries to put ports in his neck and stomach so dialysis can be preformed. Nick has transitioned to home dialysis and has been a tough adjustment. Not what the sweetest, kindest, 29 year old should be going through.

Nick has such a big heart and is loved by so many in our community. We all want Nick to have the best quality of life and going through dialysis does not provide that quality. We hope and pray a kidney comes to us and that Nick will be able to live a happy and healthy life doing what he loves and that is to bicycle all throughout our town making people smile.  WE HONOR ACTOR CARY GRANT IN
ARSENIC AND OLD LACE

CARY GRANT, was a veteran of ninety-two films - too many to list here. A simple solution when you see the name Cary Grant watch it. They are all superb performances. More versatile than he was often given credit for, Grant convincingly played a man of action in films like the rousing adventure "Gunga Din" (1939) for director George Stevens, and Howard Hawk's revered aerial drama, "Only Angels Have Wings" (1939). He further perfected the screwball comedy opposite Rosalind Russell in "His Girl Friday" (1940) and "My Favorite Wife" (1940), which re-teamed him with McCarey and frequent leading lady Irene Dunne. That same year, the smash hit, "The Philadelphia Story" (1940) not only broke box office records, it single-handedly revived Katharine Hepburn's flagging career, and won two Oscars, and additionally solidified Grant's impeccable screen persona into a verifiable archetype. So effortlessly effective was the actor, that Grant even managed to elevate sub-par material such as the melodrama "Penny Serenade" (1941), which earned him his first Oscar nomination. In one of his most fortuitous and beneficial professional collaborations, Grant worked with the great Alfred Hitchcock for the first time on the romantic psychological-thriller "Suspicion" (1941) opposite Joan Fontaine. In a surprisingly effective break from his usual role type, Grant portrayed a handsome scoundrel suspected of murder. Famously unimpressed with the thespians, director Hitchcock would later refer to Grant as "the only actor I ever loved in my whole life". Although still a major box office draw, the harsh new realities brought on by World War II tempered audience's taste for frivolous romantic-comedies, and for the first time Grant's career faltered. WATCH FOR PART TWO CARY GRANT, COMING SOON. NOW THIS WEEK, STARRING CARY GRANT IN ARSENIC AND OLD LACE (Comedy, 1944) A young man about to be married discovers the two aunts who raised him have been poisoning lonely old men. Director: Frank Capra, and starring Cary Grant, Priscilla Lane, Raymond Massey, Peter Lorre, Jack Carson, Josephine Hull, Jean Adair, James Gleason, Grant Mitchell, John Alexander, Edward Everett Horton. Hilarious adaptation of Joseph Kesselring's hit play (scripted by the Epstein Brothers) about two seemingly harmless old ladies who poison lonely gentleman callers. Frantic cast is excellent, especially Lorre and Massey as unsuspecting murderers holed up in Brooklyn household. Made in 1941. Hull, Adair, and Alexander repeat their Broadway roles. Also shown in computer-colored version. B/W - 118 m TV-G
