HISTORIC PROGRESS MADE IN REFORM-ING MEDICAID IN NEW YORK STATE

New York spends more on Medicaid per capita than any other state in the nation, but we rank only 21st in program quality for patients. In most counties, Medicaid costs alone account for more than half of the entire county tax levy.

To reform the system, Governor Cuomo created a Medicaid Redesign Team. The Team, comprised of health care professionals, stakeholders, and legislators, was charged with reducing costs and improving patient care. The Team held open meetings throughout the state and reviewed more than 4,000 ideas from team outside members. health care professionals, and citizens.

Governor Cuomo held open meetings throughout the state to review ideas from team members, outside health care professionals and citizens.

Last week, the Team accomplished their goal, submitting an unprecedented consensus plan that meets the Governor's budget target and saves over $2.3 billion. What's more, under the plan, one million New Yorkers will now have access to an innovative "patient-centered" medical program, making New York the national leader in providing this type of personal care. To enact the plan, the legislations was submitted to the Legislature to be included as part of the Executive Budget.

If you would like more information on this historic plan, go to: http://governor.ny.gov/press/022411cuomoaccepts_medicaidredesignteam and read about the Medicaid report.

LOCAL FAMILY EPILEPSY WALKATHON

EPILEPSY WALKATHON
IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Jim and Kate Kelly and their children will head to Washington D.C. on March 27th to participate in the 5th Annual National Epilepsy Walkathon. This walkathon is a fund raiser to raise money and awareness for the National Epilepsy Foundation. Epilepsy affects over 3 million Americans of all ages - more than multiple sclerosis, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, and Parkinson's disease combined. Almost 500 new cases of epilepsy are diagnosed every day in the United States. Epilepsy affects 50,000,000 people worldwide. Epilepsy is a neurological condition that from time to time produces brief disturbances in the normal electrical functions of the brain. In two-thirds of patients diagnosed with epilepsy, the cause is unknown.

Their son, Patrick Kelly, was diagnosed with Generalized Epilepsy at age 4. During his first year of schooling at Pre-Kindergarten he was having up to 4 seizures a day. He is now able to participate in all activities with his friends, from Cub Scouts to AYSO soccer to Little League. He is an active 6 yr. old who takes medication daily to control his seizures.

If you'd like to depart to this walkathon, checks trol his seizures.

If you'd like to donate to this walkathon, checks made out to National Epilepsy Foundation, may be sent to Kate Kelly, P.O. Box 482, Neversink,

OBITUARY

February 19, 2011 in North Carolina after a long fight with pancreatic cancer.

"Dick" as he was affectionately known, was born October 10, 1940 and raised in the small rural town of Liberty. He is preceded in death by his mother Irene, his father Francis, and his older brother John.

Dick served the state of New York in the Department of Corrections as an officer and AFSCME Council 82.

Dick is survived by his loving wife Carol, one son, Richard Bischert Jr. and wife, Ginny of Delaware, Ohio; two daughters, Kimberly Bischert of Grahamsville and JoAnne Bitjeman of Monticello; two stepdaughters, Kirsten Brancazio and husband, Jared, of Ft. Myers, Fla., and Karlene Kurowski of Greenport, NY, two sisters, Marie and Mary Ann; five grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

Dick was a loving husband, father and grandfather cherished by all whose lives he touched. Often he would speak of how much joy his family brought to his life. His life is remembered by those he helped, whether a friend who needed a tool, a neighbor with a home project, or a complete stranger who broke down along the side of the road.

A memorial service was held Monday, February 21 at Moore Funeral Home with a reception following at the family's home.

In lieu of flowers the family requests that a donation be made to Lustgarten.org or the Lustgarten Foundation, 1111 Stewart Ave., Bethpage, NY 11714, a premier pancreatic cancer research organization.

There will be a memorial service in Liberty, NY, this summer. If you have an interest in attending, please contact Richard Bischert Jr., at 937-707-8670.

ANNIVERSARY GOLDEN

On Friday evening, March 4th, Elise and Raymond Hornbeck celebrated 50 years of wedded bliss with family members at Albert's in Liberty.

The older generation of family members reminisced as they looked at photos of that special day fifty years ago, while the younger members, including Elise and Raymond's children and granddaughter, Emily chimed in with more current memories that added to the many chapters of Elise and Raymond's life together.

Congratulations and wishes for many more vears of wedded bliss!

George Ratner Celebrates his 100th Year Birthday!

To those of you who remember George Ratner, a long time Neversink resident, now living on the west coast in Oregon, he has taken the opportunity of sharing the celebration of his 100th birthday by way of a phone conversation with a neighbor who still resides in the area, to send the folks back home the following message.

"As I reach my 100th year on March 5th, 2011 I think about and I thank a lot of the good people for remembering me. Now living in Oregon with a relative, Irene Zajac, I am reaarthritis. I play the keyboard regularly reminiscing the old songs. I read everything, espe-cially history, which I enjoy a lot."

"What allows me to celebrate my 100th Birthday? Well, I have spent a lot of the time Richard J. Bischert Sr. passed away on outdoors in my life, enjoying clean air, clean water and the mountains. When you are old, you are the same as when you were young, only worse!"

"Here, in Oregon, there is good fishing with a lot of restrictions on it. We have steel head fish and large slamon. The weather is very seasonal. It does not get too cold. We have had 4 to 5 snow falls, all very small. It melts right away. The roads have been clear."

""I miss all my good friends left behind. I later in his career as executive director of can't name them all. A few have passed on, but you are all in my thoughts. To name a few: Francine; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Blade; Richard Rulli; Henry King; Our Superintendant, Gary, James, Charlie and the whole road crew; Georgie Lepke; James Morgan; Carol Smythe; Redford Moore; Kelly Desmond; Caroline Demy; Ricker Winsor, and all the rest of my many friends. I just can't list them all. Do know that I haven't forgotten any of you.'

"Stay healthy and keep in touch" - George For those who want to send George a belated birthday greeting, or just a note to say 'hello', this is George's address: George Ratner, co/ Irene Zajac, 12572 Lower River Road, Grand Pass, Oregon 97526

Happy Birthday George!

Sullivan County TRIAD LIFE FILE CONGRATULATIONS

Liberty, New York -Sullivan County TRIAD, during their February meeting, presented flowers and a certificate of thanks to Kaytee Warren, Executive Director of the United Way of Sullivan County for funding TRIAD'S LIFE FILE. Thanks to their Community Impact Initiative of $1500, over 1200 LIFE FILES were produced to benefit Sullivan County seniors. The LIFE FILE assists seniors by organizing their important estate matters (summarizing their legal, financial and insurance information) and helps them plan ahead, as well as assisting their survivors ~ acting as a central place to find vital information. Seniors can pick up a LIFE FILE and get more information on how to complete the LIFE FILE at the Office for the Aging (100 North Street, Monticello: 807-0241) and Cornell Cooperative Extension (64 Ferndale-Loomis Road, Liberty: 292-5250).

TRIAD (a partnership of senior representatives, law enforcement and senior advocates from over twenty area agencies) meets quarterly (January, April, July and October) on the last Friday of that month at Cornell Cooperative Extension. TRIAD's mission is to prevent elder abuse and works to maintain and improve the quality of life for Sullivan County senior citizens. Sullivan County residents interested in joining TRIAD are encouraged to call Cornell Cooperative Extension at 292-5250 to speak to Bonnie Lewis.

Tri-Valley Lions: January/February Newsletter by Lion Fran Fuller

Our Member Meeting was held on January 4th at Nardi's Restaurant in Hurleyville NY. Our guest speaker was Laurie Spaeth, who gave an informative talk on Natural Gas Drilling by fracking. She touched on some of the ramifications on our environment, human, and animal heath issues, to be considered. Radon is a threat to our area where the fracking is being considered as it can cause cancer, lung issues, and many more diseases that are not even thought about for years to come. One should think very carefully before signing any lease papers for their land. It may not be in your best interest, when you find out what really is entailed with your rights to your own property once the lease is signed.

The February 3rd Meeting was held at the Daniel Pierce Library it was the first meeting to take place at the new addition. It was a wonderful evening and we all took a tour of the new wing and Museum. We all enjoyed a sensational meal by Brooks Catering. Our guest speaker, Phil Coombe Jr., spoke of the conception of the library from starting plans to its final finish, which will hopefully take place on May 1st, 2011. Mr. Coombe told us the background of all the wonderful people who gave there time, supplies, and donated money toward the cause. We ended the night with a sense of pride, looking at all a community could accomplish, with the help of people who really cared about their village, and wonderful landmark.

Our winning Peace Poster entry was also the winner of the MD-20 District Convention in Rochester Unfortunately it did not win the International conference; a 13yr old from India won that prize. We thank Rachelle Osnato, a Tri-Valley student, for trying so hard, creating such a beautiful poster, and for giving our club the chance to win the Peace Poster competition. Keep up the great work.

A donation of $100.00 was made to the WSUL/WVOS Heartache and $250.00 donation was made to VCB(Vision Center for the Blind) on behalf of the Tri-Valley Lions Club.

Keep in Mind that the Journey for Sight walk is on May 7th, 2011 at the Grahamsville Fairgrounds. It is also Tag Day, so when you see our Lions Club members please be generous. Thank you for your support.

CONGRATULATIONS TRI-VALLEY LADY BEARS!

BLUE JAYS

By Peggy DeWire
I think that a Blue Jay is one of the prettiest and most familiar birds around Grahamsville. Its noisy bold ways inspired the American poet, James Whitcomb Riley, to write in "Knee Deep in June":

"Mr. Blue Jay, full of sass In them baseball clothes of his,

Sporting around the orchard Like he owned the premises"

Its southern cousin, the Florida Scrub Jay, is quieter and friendlier. Both birds are about the same 12" size, blue color and belong to the crow family (Corvidae)

However, the Scrub Jay has no pointy head crest or white patches on its wings and tail like the Blue Jay.

Jaybird plumage is actually gray but each feather has the unique ability to reflect only the blue color band of a sunbeam to the human eye. To find out if this is really so, gently hammer the next Blue Jay feather you find and watch it turn gray as you destroy its reflecting ability.

A northern Blue Jay nest, usually located in thick bushes and/or cedar trees, is woven of small sticks and lined with soft grass. It holds 4-6 dull greenish eggs speckled with brown on the large end. Nesting lasts from April to May. The parents defend their homes from people, cats, dogs and other birds (especially their archenemy, the great horned owl) by dive-bombing intruders.

A Scrub Jay's nest in Florida scrub land is a compact flat platform of small twigs lined with rootlets and feathers. Eggs are greenish with brown spots. The family is small as only 2-4 are raised each year.

Scrub Jays feed in the morning, mostly on the ground. Friendly family flocks hop around for seeds, acorns and insects. A sentinel watches for danger from a lookout on a high bush.

Occasionally it robs other nests of eggs and fledglings - a family trait of all jays - but this is only 1% of its diet.

Scrub Jays control harmful insects on Florida crops so well that they're protected by state law and are on the USDA honor roll.

Scrub Jays habitat has shrunk alarmingly as scrub oak lands get developed. Today you can find these native birds in widely scattered local pockets along the east coast and central sections of Florida.

I said earlier how friendly Scrub Jays are in family flocks and toward people in their home territory. I happily learned firsthand at a friend's house near Cape Canaveral when a pretty Scrub Jay flew across the backyard and took a peanut from my hand.

I hope these lovely birds will forever decorate our woodlands - sassy Mr. Blue Jay in the north and friendly Mr. Scrub Jay in the south.

February 18, 2011

The Honorable Andrew M. Cuomo Governor, State of New York Executive Chamber, State Capitol Albany, New York 12224

Re: New York City Department of Environmental Protection Delaware Aquaduct Tunnel - Hamlet of Wawarsing

Dear Governor Cuomo:

During your campaign, you met in New Paltz with Mrs. Julianne Lennon, one of our Project Advisory Committee (PAC) members regarding the leaking Delaware Aquaduct tunnel in the Hamlet of Wawarsing, Ulster County, New York.

Every day 35million gallons of water leaks through this 450' section of the tunnel 700' under people's homes and under a main highway (NYS Route 209). This 35million gallons of water a day, times 365 days a year, is a huge waste of our natural resources. It is extremely frustrating for the residents of 40 homes to live in the conditions caused by the leaks in this portion of the tunnel. This problem has continued since 1992.

We have had many PAC meetings in an attempt to resolve this issue. NYCDEP Commissioner Caswell Holloway has been to Wawarsing twice and has met with the home owners and also made a 'power point" presentation on his plans. The Commissioner has admitted that cracks in the tunnel wall is the major problem, causing the damage to the home owners' properties. The procedure of power-grouting concrete into the cracks in this section of the tunnel will not commence until 2019! My perspective is that this is a "band-aid" approach. The amount of time and money spent may not solve the problem. This section of the tunnel may be deficient and have to be replaced. Home owners cannot be expected to wait another many years for this problem to be corrected. Their patience will not last as their frustration continues to grow.

There is a solution to this problem, i.e., buy out the homes of those affected. The Greater Catskill Flood Remediation Program to purchase the properties affected by the water leakage - to assist these home owners - seems to be a sensible solution since the funds would be used for the same purpose as originally intended.

Senator John Bonacic introduced Senate Bill #6276 which passed 55-0. Assemblyman Kevin Cahill introduced Bill #10140 in the State Assembly. These Bills were introduced in early 2010. Bill #10140 has never come out of the Assembly Housing Committee chaired by Assemblyman Vito Lopez. Assemblyman Sheldon Silver blocked the Bill from coming to the full Assembly. I have sent 155 letters to the Assembly, urging them to pass Bill #10140 when it was presented to them (copy of my letter enclosed for your perusal). I am also enclosing copies of letters of support from Assemblywomen Teresa R. Sayward, Aileen M. Gunther and Nancy Calhoun. Senator John Bonacic will re-introduce the Bill again this year.

In order to keep you apprised, please be advised that the U.S. Department of the Interior, U.S. Geological Survey, is conducting a study on ground water flow and fractures; in the Wawarsing area and they anticipate their studies will be completed in 2012.

Finally, when our PAC representative met with you in New Paltz, she extended an invitation to visit our area. I am also extending my invitation for you to visit and meet with the home owners. I would do whatever might be needed to expedite such a visit.

Leonard M. Distel Supervisor, Town of Wawarsing LMD:bas

February 25, 2011

The Honorable Leonard M. Distel, Supervisor Town of Wawarsing 108 Canal Street P.O. Box 671 Ellenville, New York 12428

Dear Supervisor Distel:

Thank you for inviting Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to visit and meet with the home owners near the Delaware Aquaduct Tunnel area.

As you might expect, Governor Cuomo receives a large number of invitations for events throughout New York State, and we appreciate your patience while we review your request. We will contact you as soon as a decision has been made based on the Governor's availability. If you have any questions in the meantime, please feel free to contact the Governor's Scheduling Office at 518-474-4727. Thank you again for contacting us. Governor Cuomo appreciates hearing from you.

Alta Log Homes Marking 40th Anniversary

Halcottsville, NY -Alta Log Homes is marking its 40th anniversary in the housing industry with a year-long celebration.

The Catskill Mountain log home manufacturer is a leader in innovative building techniques. A forerunner in the "green" building movement, Alta is an Energy Star partner. The company's new log homes can qualify for Energy Star and LEED (Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design) certification. LEED is an internationally recognized green building method based on third-party verification.

Through its dealer network, Alta has sold homes in nearly every state. There are even homes in Japan as a result of a partnership program embarked upon about 20 years ago.

As part of its milestone celebration, Alta is offering a special opportunity to "try out" its product at Log Home Lodging. Opened in 2010, adjacent to the Alta office complex, Log Home Lodging gives visitors a perfect taste of Alta craftsmanship and quality. Anyone staying at the lodging facility this year will receive a credit for the price of their stay off the cost of a home ordered in 2011. The company will be announcing other incentives throughout the year.

Hinchey Votes No On Republican Middle Class Tax Increase, Supports Alternative Bill to Repeal Burdensome 1099 Reporting

Washington, DC - Congressman Maurice Hinchey (D-NY) today voted against a middle class tax increase put forward by Republicans in the U.S. House of Representatives. The legislation in question, H.R. 4, would eliminate a 1099 reporting requirement that small businesses oppose. Hinchey said, however, that while he is supportive of the effort to stop the burdensome rule from taking effect in 2012, he also thinks that middle class families should not be forced to pick up the $25 billion tab. Hinchey voted to pass a version of the bill that avoids tax increases on middle class families by instead repealing taxpayer-funded subsidies for large oil companies.

"Virtually everyone agrees that the 1099 reporting requirement established as a result of the health care law should be stopped and eliminated before it goes into effect," said Hinchey. "What we disagree on is how that should be paid for. I think it should be paid for by ending taxpayer subsidies for Big Oil, and the other side wants to raise taxes on middle class families."

In January, Hinchey signed onto alternative legislation that would repeal a provision that in 2012 will require businesses to send IRS Form 1099s for every business-to-business transaction of $600 or more for both property and services. The Small Business Tax Relief Act of 2011, H.R. 417, would help small businesses which say the requirement needlessly complicates the tax filing process without offering a foreseeable benefit.

"Employers in our part of New York and across the country should be in the job creating business -not the paperwork business," said Hinchey. "The health care law made a lot of important improvements but we need to continually work for smart changes that everyone can agree on. This new requirement won't improve our health care system and it needs to be eliminated. That's what I'm working hard to do, and I'm hopeful that we'll get bipartisan support."

President Obama highlighted the new 1099s filing requirement in his State of the Union address, noting that it would place an "unnecessary bookkeeping burden on small businesses." The expanded reporting requirement is not currently in place and is not scheduled to take effect until 2012. The provision was included in the Affordable Care Act to raise revenue by reducing the "tax gap," or the amount of income that goes unreported by large corporations, by requiring more comprehensive reporting of purchases of property and services.

EXCAVATING • LANDSCAPING • BLACKTOP • CONCRETE "Quality Isn't Expensive...It's Priceless"

23 Wagner Road Neversink, New York 12765 "What's Shakin' in Shandaken?"

Greetings and salutations from the "Heart of the Park," As always, everyone is welcome to visit the Town of Shandaken website (shandaken.us) to get up-to-date information on events and activity within the Town and region. Phoenicia Floods: We are still awaiting word on our last attempt at a permit to remove the gravel bar in the Stony Clove. In the mean time the Town is applying for two grants to assist us in both finding a longer-term solution to the issues at the confluence of the Stony Clove and Esopus Creeks which we will include modifications that we hope to expedite within the coming year. The second grant would help us evaluate flooding issues on a broader base throughout the Town and possibly help reduce the cost of flood insurance for Town residents through credits that can be obtained to lower our community rating by updating flood mapping. We have heard that we may be hearing from NYS-DEC on our permit within the coming days.

Ambulance: The Town is seeking bids for an ambulance to replace its oldest unit. All bids are due and will be opened at a public meeting designated at our March 7 meeting. For more information or specifications please contact the Town Clerk's Office at (845) 688-5004.

Health Center: We are saddened by the loss of services from Maverick West in Phoenicia. They are opening their new offices in Boiceville and we wish them the best of luck. In the interim the Town of Shandaken owned building is vacant, we are open to possibilities for the future of this space, but ideally would love to continue offering medical services from this facility. If you are a medical practitioner or work in a related field and are looking for space, please contact my office (688-7165) at your earliest con-

Beautification: As we turn the corner toward spring it is time to warm up those dormant green thumbs. What better way to welcome visitors to our area and put a smile on residents faces than helping to beautify our hamlets with fresh flowers and decorations? There are several groups throughout the Town that could always use a hand, be it for initial plantings, fundraising or simply helping brainstorm some new ideas to help enhance the natural beauty and splendor of our hamlets. If you are interested in assisting in beautification efforts in your hamlet, please contact my office any weekday and we can direct you to the proper organization in your area. Triathlon: The 18th Annual Pine Hill Arms Triathlon returns to Shandaken on Sat., March 19. The annual Ski-Bike -Run Event takes place between Belleayre Mountain in Highmount and the Hamlet of Pine Hill. Competitors start at 1pm by skiing a 1.2mile run from the top of Belleayre to the lower lodge where they embark on a 13 mile bike ride through Highmount and Pine Hill only to return to Belleayre where they start a 3+ mile run to the finish line on Main St. Pine Hill. Individuals and teams are welcome to compete. There are a multitude of categories to win and several age groups. The event annually draws more than 150 competitors and is a unique warm-up for some nationally recognized Tri-athletes. Whether standing on the deck at Belleayre's Overlook lodge to view the skiers or waiting on Main St. for the finish, this event is fun for competitors and spectators of all ages. Go to pinehillarms.com for more details.

Meetings: Town Bd. - First Mon./month; Planning Bd. - Second Wed./month; ZBA - Third Wed./month Warmest regards...Robert A. Stanley, Supervisor, Town of Shandaken

FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOUNTAIN -Paula Rhodes

Hello my friends,

I am not so sure this rambling will ever make it to the newspaper but, I really need to write it. And if it does I want to thank Linda for printing it.

Everyone knows I applied to Catskill Watershed Corporation for financing to buy the property my store is in. or if you don't, you do now. For those of you who don't know what CWC is, it is the corporation created to distribute the money New York City gives them. It is not a bank it was created to invest money in our communities. When they built the reservoirs not only were families displaced but the towns' businesses were lost. So CWC was created to "Promote Environmentally Responsible Businesses In The Catskill Watershed Region". That is the definition of my business.

There are actually four commercial rental spaces on this property. It is a very good business and for almost two years, the store alone has afforded a very comfortable life for my husband and me. I have been able to put a little money away in preparation of the purchase.

I meet with two paid professionals from CWC last year and was told what I would need to start the loan process. They have bent over backwards to help me through the process and when I tried to thank them they both said it was their job! And they encouraged me not to give up. No it is more than a job and we all know it.

I am not asking for a grant, but a loan and the reason it is so important I get it from them is because they are not a bank they invest in the region and can offer a much better interest rate. My building has been open since 1926 and the rental revenue will pay all notes, taxes, insurance and have a little left over. Then there would be the revenue from the store and my craft service business. So, I know this is a good investment.

SOOOO I with the help from the community and friends, did a business plan and the current owner offered to carry the 10% CWC told me I would need. I saved the money for the closing cost and thought I was

I was presented to the loan committee and because one of the members heard a rumor there was a problem with my septic system and they were concerned about my not having enough operating capital my application

So, I started working with DEP, an engineer and the man that emptied the septic to "get my septic certified" and saving more "working capital".

On March 3, 2011 with my application, the fact that I had indeed run the store profitably for 19 months, the Inn completely renovated and ready to start generating income and my DEP Certificate in hand, I went back to CWC and was re-presented to the loan committee. They turned me down. Barb, told me they were concerned I didn't have enough working capital and like the other restaurants they had invested in I would fail! OK, I AM NOT A RESTAURANT. I have about 12 seats that my friends sit around at and drink coffee and solve the woes of the world, BUT 95% or more of the food I sell is taken home and heated! Actually a lot of that is breakfast sandwiches and muffins.

Oh yea not enough working capital. I have almost $10,000.00 saved for working capital. As I said I was in a state of shock and am still crying but, that really isn't my point here. My point is:

They did not think my business was worthy of financing. Who are 'They'? Who are the people that sat around a table and decided I wasn't worthy enough? I don't think I know any of them so how could they pass that judgment? So I think I will introduce myself to them. Maybe if they actually know me I will have a better chance. Or maybe I should just walk away and say, "Oh well, the loan committee knows best!" Have you stopped laughing yet? You know that's not going to happen.

will save more money and I will go back. I will in the mean time start to research "other options". And I will begin to do the environmentally responsible updates I can. Yes, I have already been told by more than one person that I really shouldn't "p" off the loan committee off! Ok, as I said I am going to introduce myself to each and every member of the CWC loan committee and explain to them how good my business is and how much our community wants us and supports us. I also might carry a copy of the CWC mission statement. When I do I will apologize for p- - - ing them off but, they p- - - ed me and a lot of my friends off by telling us the only business in our little community isn't worthy of their financing!

So, hang on my friends the process begins and I will buy my business and I will be successful because I am home and I will fight for my home!

Come see me and if you know a member of the loan committee at CWC bring them by and introduce them to me or if by some chance the members of the loan committee happen to be in the area stop by and say 'hi' and see whose life you hold in your hands and have some alligator jambalaya!

Have a good week my friends.

 Fred Perry, Owner of Reservoir Music Center, 3179 Route 28, Shokan, NY 12481. 845-657-6127.

Hi folks. Well, Spring is just around the corner, and I'm a happy man. I hope you all had a great week and are now ready to go out and spend some money supporting local live music. Speaking of which, last week, I profiled The Organiks, and last night, almost at the last minute, I found out that

The Bruce Katz Band was going to be playing up in Tannersville. Now Bruce is the keyboard player in The Organiks, so naturally, I drove up there to catch the show, and I was happy I did. The band rocked right out of the gate, breaking in their new guitar player, Jimmy Bennett, an old favorite of mine from The Alexis Suter Band and The Bennett Brothers, and the beautiful thing was, it was almost an Organiks gig, as my favorite drummer, Randy Ciarlante, was sitting in on drums. Well, it was a couple of hours of pure delight! I'm telling you folks, make it a point to catch these guys. They're always great.

To those of you who went out to the Dave Mason show at The Bearsville Theater, only to find that it had been rescheduled, I'm sorry. I should have warned you that Dave is notoriously unreliable, and it might have been a good idea to check with the venue first. But, I will repeat what I've said before. This guy is a major league talent as a songwriter and guitar player, so it's worth putting up with his shenanigans. When he finally does show up, everyone's gonna be happy. The show has been rescheduled, and as soon as the new date is announced, you'll read it here first.

As of this writing, the musical pickings are a tad slim in our local area for this week, but tonight, March 10, does kick off the first show of a sixteen show run with The Allman Brothers at The Beacon Theater in Manhattan and also is the first night of five shows by Further (basically, The Grateful Dead) at the Best Buy Theater in Manhattan, with three more nights to follow at Radio City Music Hall later in the month. RESERVOIR MUSIC NOTES (From Pg. 6 Lucinda Williams also drops in to Webster Hall on West 11th Street for two shows over the weekend, so maybe this might be a good weekend to head down to the city, where winter is already com-pletely over, and pick up on The Dead, The Allmans, and Lucinda, all in one weekend. That's a lineup that's pretty hard to beat! For those of you who can't make it to the city, there is one spectacular musical event going on in our area this weekend. On Friday, March 11, Blue Chicken and Myles 'Mojo' Mancuso will be at The Falcon in Marlboro, a short drive, and very easy to get to. For those of you with a short memory, Blue Chicken, who were my pick of the week a few weeks ago, is a band made up of members of Levon Helm's Band with the addition of Sid Maginnes, the guitar player from The David Letterman Show, and Randy Ciarlante on drums. Opening for Blue Chicken will be Miles 'Mojo' Mancuso, the 16 year old guitar wunderkind who is a fixture at Keegan Ales and many other venues in our area. This kid has a beautiful career ahead of him. He's like catching Kenny Wayne Shepard or Jonny Lang when they were still kids, before they hit the big time. A great double bill. Alright, it's gonna be short and sweet this week. I got a lot o' rockin' to catch up on! See ya!

Two-Session Workshop in Adobe Photoshop Lightroom

Join instructor Deb Schwarz for a two-session workshop in Adobe Photoshop Lightroom, April 22nd and 29th from 6 - 9 pm. The workshop will be held at The Art Society of Kingston (ASK) located at 97 Broadway, in the Rondout district of Kingston. The cost for the 2-session workshop is $150.

"Lightroom" is an intuitive application, useful for optimizing your digital files in a straightforward nondestructive manner without getting into the com-plex world of layers and channels. It further has file management capability that is helpful in 'wrangling' your images into a customized database.

This workshop will introduce photographers to the user interface and get you started with developing a workflow, focusing on the tools used for processing images.

Local photographer, Deb Schwarz offers a fun approach to editing digital images. Please bring your laptops with the current (version 3) and updated version of Lightroom installed on your computer, along with some images (RAW preferred, but jpegs will work) saved to your desktop or a personal device. The only prerequisite is basic computer skills that include file maintenance.

Deb Schwarz resides in the Hudson Valley. Her images have been published in calendars and regional magazines and she has participated in group and

"Inspired Landscapes" on view at CWC office MARGARETVILLE, March 1, 2011 - "Inspired Landscapes," an exhibition of oil paintings by George Ballantine of Andes, is on view through April 29 at the offices of the Catskill Watershed Corporation, 905 Main Street, Margaretville.

The exhibit can be seen weekdays from 8 to 4:30. George Ballantine describes his work as "poems in paint." A native of Andes, his fascination with the Catskills runs deep: many of his ancestors lived and worked in Andes and the landscapes on exhibit at the CWC depict the farm fields, woods and streams surrounding Andes in various seasons and light.

He studied art at the Art Students League in New York City, as well as voice at Julliard. Ballantine's work has also been exhibited in Saint Thomas, New Mexico, New York City, and in various locations in upstate New York, as well as at 61 Main Street Gallery in Andes. The work on view at the CWC was created over the past two years by the 89-yearold artist. (Next Col.)

Besides painting and sculpting in clay and wood, Ballantine has also devoted his artist's spirit and craft to sculpting earth. He created what is now called Ballantine Park, a public park in the hamlet of Andes. With its streamside path, stone benches and plantings of specimen trees, he shaped a place of serene beauty on a two-acre site containing the ruins of an abandoned grist mill.

He earned a living for many years building roads, ponds, and helping to construct other sites in the area, including the Pepacton Reservoir of the New York City water system.

The CWC is a non-profit, Local Development Corporation responsible for several environmental protection, economic development and education programs in the New York City Watershed West of the Hudson River. # Pump up your fuel mileage Sprague & Killeen, Inc. offers simple strategies to increase fuel efficiency and save money on car insurance Ellenville, NY, 2/28/2011 - Are prices at the pump stretching your budget to the limit?

It may still be a few years before super-efficient vehicles - like those inspired by the Progressive Insurance Automotive X PRIZE - appear in auto dealers' showrooms. But there are things you can do today to increase your current car's fuel efficiency and help you save money on gas. "There is good news," according to Jamie Brooks with Sprague & Killeen,

Inc. in Ellenville whose agency offers insurance from well-known carriers like Progressive. "No matter what kind of car you drive, chances are you can increase your miles per gallon - and save money - by following a few sim—ple strategies."

Make the right choice at the pump. Are you paying an extra 10 or 20 cents per gallon for high- grade gas? Check your owner's manual and make sure it's what your car really needs. Most newer cars run best on regular gas.

 Take it easy behind the wheel. How you drive can have a big impact on your fuel economy. Jack-rabbit starts, speeds above 60 miles per hour and unnecessary idling all have a negative impact on fuel economy.

and unnecessary idling all have a negative impact on fuel economy.
 Give your car a little TLC. Keeping your vehicle in good running condition can make a difference when it comes to fuel economy. Follow your manufacturer's service schedule. Make sure the tires are properly inflated, keep the engine tuned, and change the oil and filters regularly.

 Get the junk out of the trunk. Remove unnecessary items from your vehicle. The excess weight drags down your fuel economy.

"Besides improving fuel efficiency, there are other simple ways to save money," said Brooks. "Compari—son shopping for car insurance is important. Rates from different companies can vary by hundreds of dollars. An independent insurance agent can compare products and rates from multiple insurance com—panies and put together a customized insurance plan for vou."

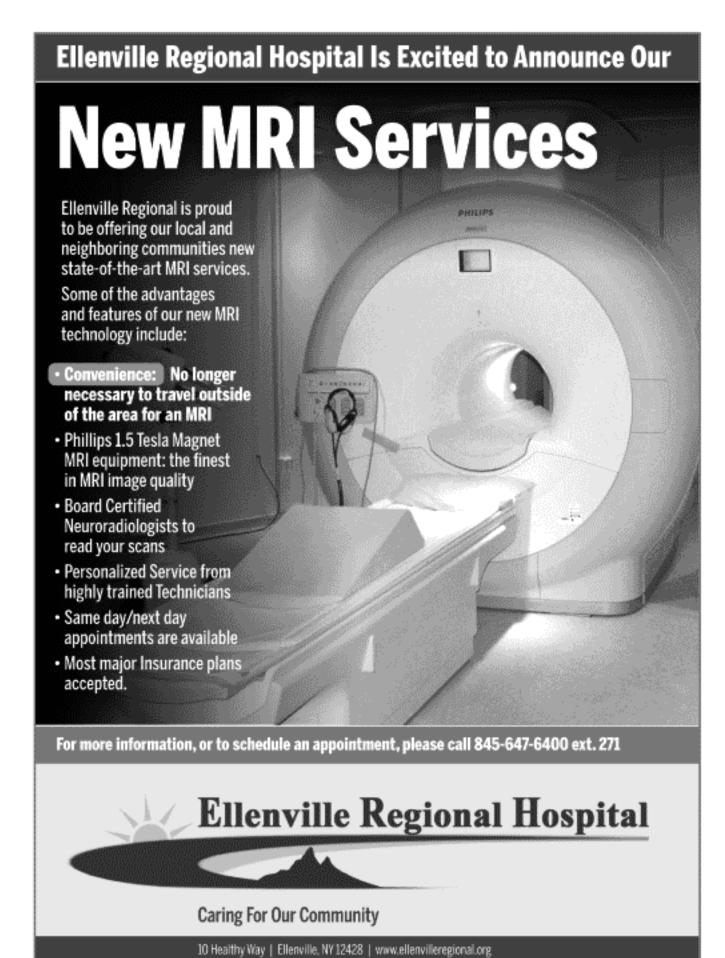

Here are a few things to consider:

 Has your life situation changed? If you've recently moved, gotten married, or had a birthday, mention it to your agent. You may be eligible for discounts.

Is your car getting older? You don't always need the same level of coverage on older cars as newer ones. If you drive an older car, an agent can advise you on what level of coverage makes sense. Raising your deductible on comprehensive or collision coverage could save you money, too.

on comprehensive or collision coverage could save you money, too.
 Do you have another type of vehicle that needs coverage? Consider a stand-alone policy for your motorcycle, boat or RV. They can be cost effective and offer specialized coverages not available when you simply add the vehicle to your homeowners policy.

NYS LOST 23 PERCENT OF ALL DAIRY FARMS IN FIVE YEARS (From Pg. 1)

Gillibrand Plan Would Make Dairy Pricing More Competitive for NY Producers, Prevent Cuts To MILC Program, Help Bolster NY's Milk Exports, Improve Storage Reporting Standards and Trade Price Stability

Washington, D.C. - U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand today announced a comprehensive plan to provide immediate support for New York's dairy farmers who are facing an imminent crisis. After hearing from dairy farmers at six agricultural listening sessions across New York State in preparation for the 2012 Farm Bill, Senator Gillibrand concluded that farmers cannot wait for solutions, and that steps are

The cornerstone of Senator Gillibrand's plan is overhauling the milk pricing system with fair, competitive pricing for New York dairy producers, and making the opaque pricing system more transparent in an effort to fix a system where dairy farmers often pay more to produce their products than they make from selling them. Senator Gillibrand is also working to prevent looming cuts to the MILC program, bolster New York's dairy exports, improve cold storage inventory reporting standards to stabilize dairy trading prices, and arm dairy farmers with more of the tools and information they need to thrive.

"Our dairy farmers are facing a real crisis, and we simply cannot wait until the Farm Bill to find solutions. We need to address this crisis now," Senator Gillibrand said. "New York is home to the hardest working farm families and the finest dairy products in the world, but outdated regulations, broken pricing structures and a bad economy are hurting our dairy farmers, and farming communities across the state. We need to act now to support New York's dairy farms.

In the span of just five years, New York State lost 23 percent of its dairy farms. As of 2007, New York State is home to nearly 5,700 dairy farms, down from nearly 7,400 in 2002, according to the USDA.

The county-by-county data reflect the most current data available. Since 2007, though, New York has lost even more dairy farms, with 5,400 dairy farms today.

The Hudson Valley is home to nearly 150 dairy farms as of 2007, down from more than 230 in 2002, an average decrease of 48 percent.

Senator Gillibrand's Dairy Agenda

JEWELRY

SPORTING GOODS

 Prevent Cuts to MILC Program Senator Gillibrand is working to prevent cuts to MILC program that are set to take effect on September 2, 2012.

The MILC program was designed to be a safety net when prices fall below $16.94 per hundredweight. However, because of the high costs of feed and fuel, dairy farmers are not even receiving enough income to cover the cost of staying in business. New York farmers have been forced to either take on massive debt to cover their costs or go out of business.

Starting September 2012, the MILC reimbursement rate is set to decrease from 45 percent to 35 percent of the difference between the $16.94 trigger price and the actual Class 1 Boston price. Senator Gillibrand is working to prevent these cuts and preserve this vital safety net for New York producers. 2. Increase Competitiveness of Dairy Pricing

Senator Gillibrand is urging the USDA to collect and publish data on alternative measures of dairy pricing, such as competitive pay pricing so that everyone can clearly see if this would be a better way to price milk. This idea has also been endorsed by Secretary Vilsack's Dairy Industry Advisory Committee and the National Milk Producers Federation. Since it was adopted in 1996, the current system of end-product pricing has contributed to increased volatility in the prices farmers receive for their milk.

A competitive pay pricing system would base the price of milk on a survey of prices paid to farmers for milk used in cheese production in a competitive market, which are counties with at least five different milk buyers. New York is one of only three states with competitive counties today. In noncompetitive areas, the existing Federal Milk Marketing Order (FMMO) system would take effect, however base prices would be established by the competitive pay pricing system.

A competitive pricing system would benefit New York because of our proximity to competitive markets, and would be a more transparent and direct way of pricing milk based on the actual prices that farmers receive.

Senator Gillibrand is urging Secretary Vilsack to collect this data retroactively to allow the comparison of prices derived under this system to end-product pricing, and determine a thorough, informed decision about the best path forward.

Reduce Somatic Cell Counts

To improve America's milk quality and bolster New York's dairy exports, Senator Gillibrand is leading the effort to limit somatic cell counts (SCC) - the most basic measure of milk quality - from the current standard of 750,000 cells/ml down to 400,000 cells/ml.

Lowering the SCC limit can benefit both producers and consumers. Milk with low SCC has a longer shelf life, better taste, and greater cheese yield. Studies have shown that for every doubling of somatic cell counts in a herd, milk production drops by 400 pounds per cow per lactation. Many cooperatives already provide incentives for farmers to produce milk under the legal SCC limit, and for the last 7 years the national average SCC count has declined. In 2008, the average SCC in the U.S. was 262,000 cells/ml, far below the legal limit of

750,000 cells/ml. Require Cold Storage Inventory

Reporting

Inventories of certain types of classified cheeses have the ability to significantly influence trading activity on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. However, cold storage facilities are currently not required to report their inventories of dairy products to the USDA Natural Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS), and only do so on a voluntary basis, creating an environment of volatility and uncertainty for dairy trading. In fact, by February of 2009, the low point of the dairy crisis, NASS reported that Cold Storage Inventories had been inflated by approximately 9 percent. Senator Gillibrand is introducing legislation that would make reporting to the NASS Cold Storage Report mandatory, and give the USDA the authority to audit warehouse inventories to help bring more stability to dairy trading prices.

5. Increase Transparency Information for Dairy Farmers

To provide more transparency into dairy cooperatives and arm dairy farmers with more of the information they need to thrive, Senator Gillibrand is introducing the Democracy for Dairy Producers Act. The legislation would require dairy cooperatives that engage in bloc voting to provide their member farmers with written notices when votes occur that provide the following information:

Procedures by which a producer may cast an individual ballot;

Contact information for the milk marketing order

information clearinghouse;

Point of contact within the cooperative to provide members with information about upcoming bloc

The bill also requires each milk marketing order to establish an information clearinghouse to provide information regarding any proposed milk marketing order reforms. This information is required to be published on a website and distributed to producers through a fax list, email distribution list, or U.S. mail list, at the discretion of individual producers. Clearinghouses would be required to provide:

Information on procedures by which a producer may cast an individual ballot;

Due dates for each specific referendum; The text of each referendum question under consideration; A description in plain language of the question and relevant background information

SUNY Ulster Workshop:

Conquering Academic Anxiety SUNY Ulster will offer a workshop on March 16, from 5:30-7:00 p.m. at the Business Resource Center, located along Ulster Avenue, in Kingston. Join us for an honest discussion about returning to the classroom after being away from school for five, ten or even twenty years. Listen to professionals working in our Learning Center discuss the services and support systems available to all students at SUNY Ulster. You will leave with tips and tools to help you feel more confident about your decision to return to school. An Admissions Counselor will guide you through the application process.

A seat for this free information session can be reserved by calling the Admissions Office at (845) 687-5022 emailing admissions@sunyulster.edu.

SUNY Ulster Workshop: Affording College Costs

SUNY Ulster will offer a workshop "Affording College Costs" on Wednesday, March 30, from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the Vanderlyn Hall Student Lounge on the Stone Ridge Campus.

Discover opportunities for making the dream of a college degree affordable. This workshop is a must for adults thinking about pursuing a college degree and for all traditional college bound juniors and seniors and their parents.

Learn about Financial Aid, Scholarships, Transfer Options, and the Admissions process presented by college representatives. Reservations are required. Please contact the Admissions Office at 1-800-724-0833, ext. 5022 or email admissions@sunyulster.edu. to reserve your seat today.
