Brodsky Blasts NRC On Regulatory Failures Described in Inspector General Report

Calls on President Obama to Convene to Reform the Agency

Through a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request filed last week, the Nuclear Regulatory Agency (NRC) was asked to make public a list of "exemptions" it has issued to all 104 commercial nuclear reactors around the country from the NRC's own health and safety rules. The "exemptions" in question include, but are not limited to, issues of fire safety, control of safety systems that are required for safe shutdown in cases where core meltdown is possible, safe evacuation of civilian populations, safe storage of spent fuel and other highly

The request was made in the form of a letter to NRC Chairman Gregory B. Jaczko from Richard Brodsky, a former New York Assemblyman, currently serving as a Senior Fellow at the national policy center Demos.

Brodsky stated, "The NRC has secretly issued thousands of 'exemptions' from its own health and safety Rules. For example, at Indian Point, when it was discovered that the fire insulation that protects the electric cables that control shutdown of the reactor core during the threat of a meltdown did not meet the NRC's requirement of lasting for one hour in a fire. Instead of requiring an upgrade to meet the Rule the NRC secretly 'exempted' Indian Point from the Rule and lowered the insulation survival requirement to 24 minutes (because the test showed it only survived for 27 minutes). This has been repeated time after time at reactors in New York and around the nation, and without any public notice or participation in the secret 'exemption' process. We need to know what reactors received 'exemptions,' what Rules are no longer applied as written, and how and why the 'exemptions' were issued. My letter to Chairman Jackzo is the beginning of the end of NRC secrecy and arbitrary weakening of health and safety standards." (Contd. Pg. 12)

THANK YOU-

The words of Thank-you cannot say enough from the Haag family

The family of Stretch would like to thank everyone for the support during the unexpected loss of a husband, father, Opa (grandfather) and a friend. Everyone thinks they are prepared for the unexpected, but no one is really prepared for the loss of a love one. We greatly appreciate the many cards, food, prayers, and the donations to the food pantry. The community out-pouring of support from friends and folks has been tremendous. This has been much appreciated for all of us. As time passes, so does the pain of the loss, and life goes on. All the memories of George and his good deeds will be remembered for a long time to come.

We would like to especially thank the Grahamsville Fire Dept for the beautiful service and their support. This has been a difficult time and I know we are not the only ones that will miss Stretch. Words can't say enough to start to thank Pastor Bob for all of the comfort and support he has shown us.

Thank-you the Haag family

ROBINS ARE BACK

By Peggy DeWire

"Robins are back" is a very familiar shout in Grahamsville about a familiar bird whose arrival is a sign of coming spring.

The pretty bird with a gray back,

The pretty bird with a gray back, bright orange-red breast, black head and tail is the largest of the five eastern thrushes, including bluebirds. The trademark of the thrush family and then lose as adult birds.

(Turtidae) is a brown-spotted breast which young robins and bluebirds have

A robin is ten inches long and is the standard other birds are compared to afield. The bird yardstick is sparrow: 6 inches, robin

A robin's nest is a bowl of mud reinforced with twigs and leaves lined with soft grass. Put in a tree or projecting ledge on a house, it holds 4-5 beautiful blue eggs. Robins raise two broods a season, very trusting of being close to humans.

Several weeks later the parents bring their fledglings down on lawns where the whole family hops around feeding on insects and earthworms as well as small fruits and berries.

Robins have a cheerful song and a warning wailing cry when danger (especially a cat) threatens.

Robins are native to the U.S. Besides the eastern robin, there is a smaller southern one and a paler western kin. (Turdus migratorius).

Our robins migrate south in winter and once in Florida once, on Sanibel Island, I saw a migrating flock.

What a pleasure to watch these familiar redbreasted birds hop along with typical alert heads-up style under palm trees and thickets of Brazilian Pepper bushes.

Robins are especially fond of this plant's clusters of red berries and along with other migrant birds have scattered the seeds everywhere, making Brazilian Pepper a pest plant there.

But as I watched the robins stuffing themselves on the red berries, an amazing thing began to happen - the birds staggered around in a drunken spree uttering crazy chirps and flapping their wings so weakly that they couldn't get airborne.

Eventually the glutton robins took to the air and perched unsteadily on a limb until they recovered their balance. What a hangover from too many Brazilian Peppers those drunken robins must have had.

As I watched the new arrivals hopping around here on our lawn, I wondered if they'd ever binged out in Florida on Brazilian Peppers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter To The Editor:

I was elected to the Neversink Town Board in 1979, and have served faithfully and responsibly for thirtytwo years. This November I will not be running for reelection. I have decided to "throw in the towel" and retire from public office. I began serving when James Gorman was Supervisor. Horace Sheeley and Jack Denman were my mentors and, I must say, these three men were perhaps the most honorable and professional community servants I have ever met. It was indeed a pleasure to have served with such dedicated community leaders. Times change, people grow older and new community servants take their place. Now I have grown older and someone needs to step up and take my place.

I heard some idle chatter while in town the other day..., at least I hope it was idle chatter. Someone said that a Tri-Valley School Board Member may be interested in running for my position on the Town Board. That seemed fine until it was mentioned that he did not intend to give up his position on the School Board. Although it may be legal to represent both Boards simultaneously, my personal feeling is that this is highly "unethical" and could cause a "conflict of interest" down the road. I say, serve on one Board or the other, but do not try to be a representative on both Boards at the same time. I am sure we have all heard the saying that "no man can serve two masters" and I believe, in this case, the quote is right on! Of course, as I said in the beginning, this may all be idle chatter. But, in case it happens to be true, I wanted others to know how I felt about the same individual serving on both Boards simultaneously.

I am sure there are at least several individuals living in the Town of Neversink, who are not presently serving on the local school board, who are interested in town governmental affairs. If you happen to be one of these people, contact your political party chairman and express your desire to run for a position on the Neversink Town Board.

During my thirty-two years as a councilman on the Neversink Town Board, I took my job seriously and was a independent thinker. I have always looked at the Board as a team, all working for the good of our wonderful, little community. Many fine things have been accomplished by the Board during the last thirty-two years an efficient refuse and recycling center replaced the old town "dump", Bi-centennial Square was created, a town hall addition and parking area was constructed, a new town barn and salt /sand shed was built, City Field evolved into a beautiful complex, and our dog pound was created and brought up to state standards. These are just a few of the Town's accomplishments during the past thirty-two years. Of course maintaining low taxes and keeping our Town debt-free were very important accomplishments, as well. I thank each and every person who supported me on election day and throughout my terms of office. I have been proud to serve in such a fine community and I hope my successor will also enjoy serving on the Board. God Bless!

RE: Is the Sullivan County Dept. of Public Works acting in an ethical manner?

My neighbors, and I have a question. When the ditches along our highways/roads are cleaned, as they have been the past few weeks, what is the procedure that must be taken for the landowner to reclaim the soil, gravel and fill that is removed from their property? I notice that some residents have been designated as drop off areas, where large piles of this soil are seen. Those residents obviously have the freedom to do what they want with the soil, which I understand includes sale of the material for fill, etc. While this may be legal, many property owners who I have spoken with feel this certainly not ethical. What can we do to keep our own soil? Jason Morse

Bonacic announces Restoration of VLT Aid to Sullivan County

State Senator John J. Bonacic (R/C/I - Mt. Hope), announced today that Sullivan County would receive a portion of VLT aid, according to a three way agreement between the Assembly, Senate and Executive Chamber, the measure requires final approval in the budget by the legislature.

The agreement would restore funding in the budget for three municipalities in Sullivan County. The agreement would provide $188,000 to the Village of Monticello; $408,000 to the Town of Thompson and $199,000 to Sullivan County for a total of $795,000. The process started with the Senate including this measure in their one house budget. Now, the General Government Conference Committee needs to sign off on the final three way agreement.

"This was a priority issue for me. All host communities should be treated fairly," said Senator Bonacic. "I recognize the importance of these funds to the local communities."

Funding for Warwarsing Flood Victims (From Pg. 1)

"In 2008, we acted to create the Greater Catskill Flood Mitigation Fund dedicated to projects aimed at addressing the massive and unprecedented flooding has that devastated our region in recent years," said Assemblyman Cahill. "Until now, homeowners that have incurred damages from the DEP's leaking aqueduct could not take advantage of the program. This budget action will now take that funding and apply it directly to the long suffering people of Wawarsing."

The passage of this budget provision would authorize the use of surplus funds from the Greater Catskill Flood Remediation Program for property purchases in the Town of Wawarsing. Consistent with the guidelines for the existing program, eligibility would be limited to 150% of the median family income in the area.

"The damage that has accumulated over the last several years is making it increasingly difficult for families to remain in their homes. That is why it is essential that we include the assistance and resources this community needs in this year's budget to help them recover and minimize the impact of future flooding," said Assemblyman Cahill. "I have written New York City DEP Commissioner Caswell Holloway on this matter to urge the DEP to dedicate resources to meet the needs of those remaining households."

Senator Bonacic added, "We are very pleased to have reached an agreement with the Governor, Senate, and Assembly to include approximately $4.5 million to buyout properties near the leaking aqueduct in the Town of Wawarsing. The funding we are placing in the budget, will help make life bearable again for the victims of this situation. This day has been a long time coming, and has been a team effort. We encourage New York City to also assist these individuals, by providing moving costs to help them move, and to also match the State funding."

"Nothing can give these individuals back the years they have suffered from the City's inaction, but hopefully this can help many impacted families move forward."

"We look forward to Governor Cuomo's signing the budget into law which will contain this language and thank him for his efforts in working with us."

UC Comptroller Announces Staff Changes
Lisa Cutten, CPA, joins Ulster County Comptroller Elliott Auerbach's staff and will assume the role of Senior Auditor, a professional and supervisory position with responsibilities for the oversight of auditing financial accounts, records and claims.

The Ulster County Auditor from 2006-2008, Ms Cutten raised concerns regarding the Lower Esopus River Watch which led to an investigation by the NYS Attorney General and ultimately jail time for the head of that Agency and dissolution of the Agency.

Ms. Cutten has worked in both the public and private sector in the Hudson Valley and most recently provided accounting and management services to not-for-profits and local governments. She has a BBA Degree in Accounting from Pace University and has been licensed in New York State since 1983 as a Certified Public Accountant.

Cahill: Assembly Budget Protects Education, Health Care- Proposal Restores Funding to Public Services While Rejecting Tax Cuts for Millionaires

Assemblymember Kevin Cahill (D-Ulster, Dutchess) announced the Assembly passed a budget proposal that protects programs for financially struggling families, children with special needs, and senior citizens while rejecting tax cuts for New York State's wealthiest.

"Over the last several weeks, I've heard from many people and important organizations in our community. They wanted cuts, but not cuts that cripple the institution and services we rely on," said Assemblymember Cahill.

Under the executive budget, millionaire tax rates would drop from 8.97 percent to 6.85 percent, the same rate paid by New Yorkers making $20,000 a year. Instead, the Assembly's budget maintains the current rate and directs 30 percent of the revenue - a projected 30 percent of $706 million in 2011-12, and of $2.65 billion in 2012-13- to the Educational Assistance Fund, with the balance going toward cash-starved programs and services.

"With a $10 billion deficit and scores of detrimental cuts on the table, including sizeable reductions in critical education and health care programs, now is not the time to give millionaires a tax break," Assemblymember Cahill said. "We must pursue options that provide solutions to the inequities in the system. That's why I helped pass an Assembly budget that does not favor the state's privileged few, which constitutes for less than half a percent of the resident population, over working families and students.

In addition to the extension of the income tax surcharge on high earners, the Assembly budget proposal includes restoring tens of millions to programs such as Early Intervention for New York's most vulnerable citizens, while rejecting an increase for co-pays for Medicaid, Family Health Plus, and Child Health Plus.

"Now is not the time to increase the cost for medical care for New Yorkers in need," said Assemblymember Cahill. "By imposing higher co-pays and cutting funding to these vital programs, we will be depriving children and families of crucial treatment and abandoning our duty as public servants to protect our state's disadvantaged population."

The Assembly's budget plan also restores $34 million in prescription drug aid for seniors through the State's Elderly Pharmaceutical Insurance Coverage (EPIC) program. Currently, the EPIC program provides for over 300,000 enrollees with secondary coverage for prescription drug costs.

"No one should have to choose between medicine and other necessities like food and housing," said Assemblymember Cahill. "New York needs to do more with less and that requires creative thinking and new approaches to funding important initiatives. Gutting programs without first exploring creative ways to protect them is ill advised and I am glad we were able to help seniors make ends meet by defending EPIC."

New York's Population Shift Will Cost Us Power and Money As New York State leaders continue to negotiate the 2011-12 State Budget, the latest 2010 census information released by Washington last week illustrates an ongoing and troubling trend that spells less political power and reduced federal aid for the Empire State.

New York's overall population has grown from 18,976,457 in 2000 to 19,378,102 in 2010; 17 counties lost more than 3 percent of their population; 23 counties grew slightly (0 to 2.9 percent change); 22 counties gained population over 3 percent; 5 counties grew by more than 6 percent over the ten year period; To review the map,go to: http://www.nysac.org/policy-research/index.php;

"These national figures are an important wake up call for New York, providing a snapshot of population trends in and outside of New York State," said NYSAC Executive Director Stephen J. Acquario. "We need to explore the ramifications of this information and enact state policies to improve our living conditions, our business conditions so that our residents continue to believe that the future of this state is bright and improving.

A NYSAC report forewarned a range of coalescing challenges facing New York policy makers including our stagnant population growth, the continuing exodus of the young and educated to other states, an increasing population over age 65, higher rates of poverty than the nation as a whole, dismal private sector job growth, increasing unemployment and a business climate ranked as one of the most costly in the nation. The report, The Gathering Storm is available on NYSAC's website at http://www.nysac.org/policyresearch/Archived Reports.php.

"New York must continue to address the core issues responsible for this outmigration," said NYSAC President William Ryan, Westchester County Legislator. "Losing federal representation in the Congress is not good for our citizens, and the loss of any federal aid during this recession is most unfortunate.'

Phoenicia Library: Early morning on Saturday, March 19th the Phoenicia Library caught age to the rest of the structure and its contents. The Town Board is permitting the Library to reopen, for the interim, in the recently vacated medical building on Ava Maria Dr., across from the Post Office, in Phoenicia. They re-opened last Sat., March 26 at 9am. Operations will be simpler as they re-establish their reading and entertainment programs and book lending practices. If you wish to lend a hand to the library in this time of need please contact them at: phoeniciadirector@gmail.com or check on their progress and hours at: phoenicia.lib.ny.us.

Flood Grants: The Town Board has received two grants through the Ashokan Watershed Stream Management Program. One is for $47,000 to continue working toward a solution to stream restrictive issues along the Stony Clove in Phoenicia. This will allow the engineering firm working on this issue to continue in this capacity, so we may have a long-term in-the-ground solution before the end of summer. The second Grant is for $102,500 to hire a consulting firm to help the Town assess and update recognition of flood-prone areas throughout the Town. Further work includes involving the Town in a Community Rating System (CRS), that should help reduce land owners costs for personal flood insurance. Both of these grants are being supported through in-kind services by Town Officials, no monetary match will be necessary.

Parks and Recreation Board: The Town Board will be appointing members to this new board at our meeting scheduled for Monday, April 4 @ 7pm.

Ambulance: The Town will be opening bids for a replacement ambulance at our next Board meeting on April 4th.

Beautification: There are several groups throughout the Town that could always use a hand, be it for initial plantings, fundraising or simply helping brainstorm some new ideas to help enhance the natural beauty and splendor of our hamlets. If you are interested in assisting in beautification efforts in your hamlet, please contact my office any weekday (688-7165) and we can direct you to the proper organization in your area.

FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MOUNTAIN - Paula Rhodes

Hello My Friends,
And here is another reason I am going to fight! AND I AM ASHAMED OF MY SELFISHNESS! When I started thinking of what I should write; my friend and neighbor who needed my help had "slipped my mind!"

A friend called me Friday who is not well. She needs help staying in her home. She is looking for people to come in and give her a hand. I am not sure what she pays but if you give me a call I will be sure she gets your number. Please, give me a call 657-2115 at the store.

I will now do what it takes to continue the success I have started here at Skins. I am tired of this. I started writing my ramblings because I wanted to share some of the "moments" from our side of the mountains and I did not realize just how many people read my ramblings! I have had so many people come in and say "so what's next?" You are not giving up. We know you and you need to fight. And like my Daddy used to say: it is hard to remember when you're your up to your knee in alligators -your goal was to drain the swamp."

And Now!

I certainly hope ya'll had a more exciting week than we did. But, can I tell you how cold I am? I have had more than one person who grew up here say "it's not the snow, it's the cold". No one can remember when it has been this cold. Really! It was minus 12° on my front porch this morning! My window and back doors were covered in ice! I need new windows and insulation so-o-o-o badly. His hand froze to the flag pole, when Bob's son put it out for me! I'm not going out side.

Having grown up in the classic Huck Finn definition of the Southern life style, seriously, we played in ponds and fields and caught tadpoles and rode our horses into the pond and used them for diving boards! I remember asking my dad for a swimming pool and him asking how I would get my horse into it! My best friend was Tinia and we would just disappear for the day and come back when we were hungry unless we took bologna sandwiches with us. We would put ice tea into a big jar along with the bologna sandwiches with yellow mustard! Yum! It was so hot we would lie on the backs of our horses under the trees that hung over the pond. And we knew it wouldn't do any good to go home to cool off. All that would mean would be sitting on the porch fanning flies! Last August I had a friend that was going to Atlanta. I asked him if he was being punished! I remember the temperature being 100° and the humidity being 98% and it wasn't raining. I do remember once it actually snowed and we got on our horses and made it as far as the back of the barn, got cold and went to the tack room with the pot belly stove and stayed there until someone came and got us! So, I have never really cared for winter nor summer. I am so appreciative of the store and being able to stay inside. I giggle when I stand and look out the door at everyone coming into the post office and wave! You couldn't drag my fat butt outside! Wait, I do have to go out today! OH NO, and when I do I will get someone to start my car! And I only have to go to the bank so I actually don't have to get out of my car. OH NO, I have to go to the Town Hall, so I do have to get out. Think I could talk someone over there into bringing me the paper I need brought out to me? I could talk Sylvia into it! She's tough! You know I think this may be the first time since I stopped smoking over 10 years ago that I appreciate not going outside for a cigarette! And for those of you who say, "Oh, I love the cold." Are you crazy? That's like a Southerner saying "Oh, I love the humidity"

Well, one more ramble and I am going to close and go out into the cold! It looks like there won't be any Live Dixie Chickens in my future. Gary just doesn't want them! He thinks they wouldn't make very good pets so I think I will plant some obnoxious plants that bears don't like there! I am not sure what I will plant yet. NO!! I am going to plant turnip greens there! You can have the turnips. When we grew them we never really let the turnips grow. We pulled them when they were young and tinder. Yum, just give me the seasoned boiled greens and a piece of cornbread and nice thick slice of onion! A glass of sweet tea, and Yum! Oh and boiled peanuts I do miss summer!

Have a good week my friends and stop by and sign my petition!

The Dixie Chicken

Hi everybody,

I just returned from new York City, where I went for the weekend to see some shows and spend some time with my family, and I hereby warn anyone who travels to Manhattan to see one of the shows that I recommend, WATCH OUT! - for the army of meter maids and men that Mayor Mike Bloomberg has unleashed on the helpless population. There's 3 or 4 on every block, they're giving out tickets even when you're parked legally, and they now park cars in the middle of the street in Manhattan, so if you're a normal person who has always been taught that cars belong on the side of the road, you're getting a ticket for blocking the bike lane. every street, and parking spaces have been reduced to 3 per block, and I'm not kidding. They're parking the cars right in the middle of the street. Because of this insanity that the billionaire mayor who has no idea what it's like to live on a budget has created, I will be very hesitant to recommend any music events in Manhattan from now on. That's not to say that I never will. Just that I will think twice before I do, and all who decide to go there, be forewarned!

Having said all that, there is one show in Manhattan this week that should be worth seeing, and that's THE STROKES at Madison Square Garden on April 1st. These guys are one of the few bands that have carried the torch for rock 'n' roll for the last decade, and if they haven't all become drug addicts and/or alcoholics, this should be a good one.

For those of you wishing to stay closer to home, the Hudson Valley offers some awesome music this week too. Tonight, March 31, ASSEMBLY OF DUST bring their jam flavored show to The Bearsville Theater. I've never seen these guys, but I've heard a few live tracks that really blew my mind, and I've heard great things about their live shows. Opening act is local favorites, THE TRAPPS.

On April 2nd, TERRY ADAMS and the new NRBQ stop in to The Bearsville Theater. Apparently, NRBQ founder and keyboard player Terry has gotten the rights to the name of his former band, as they are now billed as the new NRBQ. This should be a great night of rootsy rock 'n' roll, and would normally be my pick of the week if it wasn't for BOZ SCAGGS playing at the Tarrytown Music Hall on April 3rd. Boz is playing better than ever, and his collection of vintage instruments and amplifiers should have you recalling the glory days of the 60's, which is why he's this week's PICK OF THE WEEK.

With Spring returning this week and warmer weather right around the corner, there's sure to be an uptick in musical events worth seeing.

Stay tuned and you'll read it here first.

A Little Light Humer from 'Kids In Church'

A little boy was overheard praying: 'Lord, if you can't make me a better boy, don't worry about it. I'm having a real good time like I am.'

A Sunday school teacher asked her children as they were on the way to church service, 'And why is it necessary to be quiet in church?' One bright little girl repliéd, 'Because people are sleeping.'

A wife invited some people to dinner. At the table, she turned to their six-year-old daughter and said, 'Would you like to say the blessing?' 'I wouldn't know what to say,' the girl replied. 'Just say what you hear Mommy say,' the wife answered. The daughter bowed her head and said, 'Lord, why on earth did I invite all these people to dinner?

'Our Father, Who does art in heaven, Harold is His name. Amen.'

A father was at the beach with his children when the four-year-old son ran up to him, grabbed his hand, and led him to the shore where a seagull lay dead in the sand. 'Daddy, what happened to him?' the son asked. 'He died and went to Heaven,' the Dad replied. The boy thought a moment and then said, 'Did God throw him back down?'

A mother was preparing pancakes for her sons, Kevin 5, and Ryan 3. The boys began to argue over who would get the first pancake. Their mother saw the opportunity for a moral lesson.. 'If Jesus were sitting here, He would say, 'Let my brother have the first pancake, I can wait.' Kevin turned to his younger brother and said, 'Ryan, you'be Jesus!'

One particular four-year-old prayed, 'And forgive us our trash baskets as we forgive those who put trash in our baskets.

TVCS Sixth Graders Envirnomental Education Trip to Frost Valley YMCA

On March 28, 29, and 30th the TVCS sixth grade students will be spending three days and two nights at Frost Valley YMCA taking part in an Environmental Educational learning trip. On this much-anticipated field trip, the sixth graders will be participating in programs and activities that teach the importance of communication and team work through Project Adventure, low ropes challenges, and trust activities. They will be learning about the environment and history of our own Catskill Mountains through a historical tour of the "Castle" and original property of Frost Valley and an educational hike and tour of the Frost Valley Maple Syrup program. ## American Farmland Trust to Hold No Farms No

Food® Rally & Lobby Day, at Albany on March 30
New York farmers, soup kitchen volunteers, land trusts, community gardeners, chefs, town officials, and local food advocates will converge at the State Capitol in Albany on March 30 for American Farmland Trust's annual No Farms No Food® Rally and Lobby Day. There, they will meet in person with more than 100 state legislators to tell them that the loss of farms and farmland hurts New York's economy and food security.

Speakers include: Robert Morgenthau, former Manhattan District Attorney; Commissioner of Agriculture Darrel Aubertine; Assemblyman Bill Magee, chairman of the Assembly Agriculture Committee; Reverend Robert Jackson Founder, Brooklyn Rescue Mission, Bed-Stuy Farm and Malcolm X Farmers Market; and Richard Ball, Schoharie Valley Farms, District 9 Director, New York Farm Bureau. We will also meet directly with more than 100 legislators to talk about the critical importance of state programs that invest in farms, food and farmland. Concern about food security, access to locally grown foods and public health issues such as childhood obesity has never been higher. Yet, New York State continues to lose one farm to development every 3 1/2 days. Over the last 25 years the state has lost half a million acres of farmland to subdivisions, strip malls and other scattered development. The loss of agricultural land is even more critical in light of the fact that New York's currently existing farmland is capable of feeding only 6 million of the state's population of 19 million. That's just 30 percent of state resi-

Agriculture is the foundation of New York's economy yet the loss of farmland is limiting the state's ability to produce food and the dollars it brings. New York State's farms generated $4.7 billion in economic activity in 2009 and serve as the cornerstone of the state's $31 billion farm and food industry. Plus, farmers support thousands of local businesses. In 2007, New York farmers spent $3.5 billion on supplies

New York needs to invest in its farms and food systems now more than ever before. The No Farms No Food® Rally & Lobby Day agenda includes support for programs that invest in farm and food jobs, protect farmland and the environment and support farmers markets, community gardens, and other programs that expand the availability of local food to more New Yorkers. Programs such as the Farmland Protection Program, Hunger Prevention and Nutrition Assistance Program and others will be highlighted by participants. The No Farms No Food® Rally & Lobby day is free of charge. It runs from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and includes a local foods lunch. Free bus transportation is available roundtrip from New York City to Albany. For more information and to register, go to www.farmland.org/newyork or call (518) 581-0078.

American Farmland Trust is the nation's leading conservation organization dedicated to saving America's farm and ranch land, promoting environmentally sound farming practices and supporting a sustainable future for farms. Since its founding in 1980 by a group of farmers and citizens concerned about the rapid loss of farmland to development, AFT has helped save millions of acres of farmland from development and led the way for the adoption of conservation practices on millions more. Each quilter wrote a personal statement describing the inspiration for their work so the public can more easily see behind the scenes. Invitational quilter Susan Balch, of Reading VT, often finds inspiration for her quilts through fly fishing experiences. Her piece "Home from the Sea" depicts Atlantic Salmon resting in a pool during their final journey to the place where they were born. "I am fascinated by Atlantic Salmon", said Balch. "To me, they are a symbol of great strength, ability, and determination."

This unique show, curated by talented quilter Sally Abrams, of Livingston Manor, showcases quilts that celebrate the joy in creating from nature's inspiration. The show includes traditional quilt patterns and abstract designs. large and small.

(read by Dorothy Hartz), a determined career woman, who has been promoted to managing director of an employment agency. In the famous first act of the play, Marlene shares a celebratory lunch with women from history: nineteenth-century world traveler and explorer, Isabella Bird; Lady Nijo, courtesan to a Japanese emperor who later became a Buddhist nun, Pope Joan, who, disguised as a man, is thought to have been pope between 854-856; Dull Gret, the subject of a Bruegel painting; and Patient Griselda, the obedient wife in Geoffrey Chaucer's Clerk's Tale. Each character provides a glimpse at the station and role of women throughout history.

Ben Brantley of The New York Times called the play

"one of the most resonant theatrical set pieces of the past 50 years."

The readers, who will read multiple roles, are Beverly Dally, Élaine Giguere, Dorothy Hartz, Áleta Kahn, Marcia Nehemiah and Tracey Gass Ranze.

Linda Comando, Editor Ye Old Tri-Valley Townsman

Pg. 1) Richard Brodsky, former New York Assemblyman and current Senior Fellow at the national policy center Demos, issued the following statement in response to the new Inspector General Report which outlines the threat to public safety posed by the Indian Point Nuclear Power Plant.

Brodsky stated, "Today's Report by the Inspector General is another example of the failure of the NRC to provide effective protection of the health and safety of the American people. The NRC is to nuclear power today what the SEC was to Wall Street three years ago. We had a financial meltdown there that nearly bankrupted us. The consequences of a real meltdown would be infinitely worse. Whether one is for or against nuclear power, we need an effective regulator and the NRC has failed that mission. On issues of fire safety, emergency evacuation, earthquake safety, relicensing, terrorism, spent fuel and many others the NRC is not doing its job. Indeed, the NRC today is the problem, not the remedy."

"The Inspector General words in today's Report illuminate the depth of the problem: "Despite Section 206 requirements for licensees that operate nuclear power plants to notify NRC of defects in basic components that could cause a substantial safety hazard, NRC staff have noted Part 21 reporting issues, and Office of the Inspector General (OIG) analysis of industry data indicate that there are apparent unreported Part 21 defects. These reporting issues exist because NRC regulations and guidance for implementing Section 206 are contradictory and unclear, and the NRC Baseline Inspection Program does not include requirements to inspect licensee reporting of Part 21 defects. Unless NRC takes action to fully implement Section 206, the margin of safety for operating reactors could be reduced."

"President Obama must convene a broadbased panel of experts and citizens to examine and reform the operations of the NRC. We simply can no longer hope that things go well. Our reservoir of good luck may not last.

Brodsky is a former NY Assemblyman who conducted the first in-depth study of the NRC evacuation plan at the Indian Point Reactor in New York, successfully sued to stop Indian Points Pollution of the Hudson River, and is currently suing the NRC for health and safety violations at Indian Point

Brodsky Blasts NRC (From Hinchey: Gas Prices Hurting Hudson Valley Residents and Businesses; Federal Government Must Take Action to Stop Speculation

With gas prices at or near record prices, many in the Hudson Valley are once again struggling to fill their tanks while large oil companies rake in record profits and benefit from billions in taxpayer subsidies. That has Congressman Maurice Hinchey (D-NY) calling for a series of actions from Congress and the White House to address the problem immediately.

"For Hudson Valley families on a tight budget, this is an economic emergency," said Hinchey. "We can't afford to let gigantic oil companies and Wall Street speculators rake in record profits on the backs of upstate New Yorkers who are just trying to drive back and forth to work or the grocery store. It's time to crack down on financial speculators who artificially drive up the price of oil to pad their own profits, put a stop to price gouging, end subsidies for Big Oil and start investing more in clean energy technologies that will reduce our dependence on imported oil from hostile nations."

Among the solutions proposed by the congressman:

Crack Down on Speculation: Last week, the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) released new data indicating that speculation had increased by 64 percent since June 2008 - the highest level on record. That helps explain the sharp increase in gas prices that has occurred in the absence of a major supply disruption. To address the problem, Hinchey is urging the CFTC to use its authority to immediately crack down on speculation, and is warning against a one-third cut to the CFTC budget proposed by House Republicans.

Institute a "Use it or Lose It" Policy: Currently, oil and gas companies lease over 80 million acres for drilling on public lands and in public waters, but are only producing on 18.5 million acres. Despite the opportunity to boost production, under current law, oil companies can hold on to federal leases even if they aren't producing oil. To help increase domestic sources of energy, Hinchey's plan would require oil and gas companies to use their leases or pay a $4 per acre fee until production begins.

Make Gas Price Gouging Illegal: Hinchey is a cosponsor of the Federal Price Gouging Prevention Act, which makes it illegal to sell gasoline at excessive prices and prevents Big Oil from taking advantage of consumers by engaging in price gouging to artificially drive up prices.

Stop Subsidizing Big Oil, Start Subsidizing Green Energy: Hinchey echoed President Obama's call to end $40 billion in Big Oil subsidies and instead use the money to invest in new technology that lessens our dependence on foreign oil. Hinchey is working to pass the Ending Big Oil Tax Subsidies Act and recently sponsored an amendment to close a $53 billion loophole that allows oil companies drilling in the Gulf of Mexico to avoid paying royalties owed to American taxpayers.

The congressman said America needs a comprehensive approach to reducing its addiction to oil and that the Hudson Valley's solar energy industry can help lead the way forward. Despite a recent effort from House Republicans to roll back investments in renewable energy, Hinchey said he'll press on to ensure that America is a leader in green energy production.

Hinchey to Deliver Opening Remarks at Hudson Valley Agriculture Sustainable Energy Conference -Congressman Organized Conference to Inform Area Famers, Rural Small Business Owners of Federal Assistance Available for Energy Efficiency and Sustainability Projects

Congressman Maurice This past Monday, Hinchey (D-NY) delivered opening remarks at the Agriculture Sustainable Energy Conference he helped organize to inform area farmers and rural small business owners of federal assistance available for energy efficiency and sustainability projects. The event took place in the Student Lounge of Vanderlyn Hall 203 on the SUNY Ulster Community College Campus.

Hinchey worked to arrange the event, which was free and open to the public. Representatives from the New York State Energy Research & Development Authority (NYSERDA), U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development, and the U.S. Department of Energy provided information on available assistance.

Sheriff Paul Van Blarcum Announces Membership Drive for NYS Sheriffs' Association

The New York State Sheriffs' Association Institute will begin its annual Honorary Membership drive in Ulster County within the next ten days according to Sheriff Paul Van Blarcum.

The New York State Sheriffs' Association Institute, established in 1979, is a not-for-profit corporation, tax exempt organization, and contributions to the Institute are tax deductible.

While the Sheriff's Office is a unit of county government, many of the concerns of Sheriffs and other law enforcement agencies are best addressed on a statewide level. The Sheriffs' Institute provides centralized training programs and services for all Sheriffs' Offices, where those programs and services would be unavailable or impractical on a single county basis.

The flagship program of the Sheriffs' Institute is the Sheriffs' Summer Camp for economically challenged children. The Sheriffs' Camp, in its 35th year of operation, is located on Keuka Lake and hosts 840 children from across New York State attend each summer. The Sheriffs' Institute pays the entire cost of the camp stay and transportation. Most children attending wouldn't otherwise have an opportunity for vacation travel or a summer camp experience. Last year, 31 children from Ulster County attended camp.

The Sheriffs' Camp program combines summer recreation with activities designed to teach an understanding of, and respect for, our laws and the men and women who enforce them. The strong camperto-counselor ratio allows for individual attention with an emphasis on the development of self esteem.

"In these difficult economic times, we cannot forget our youth who will not have the opportunity for a summer camp experience or a summer vacation," Sheriff Paul Van Blarcum said. "By becoming an honorary member you are supporting the Sheriffs' Summer Camp for economically disadvantaged children."

In addition, the Sheriffs' Institute operates a scholarship program that provides one scholarship to each of New York State's Community College's Criminal Justice Programs. This program is designed to help attract the best and the brightest to the criminal justice vocation.

For more information about the Sheriffs' Summer Camp and other Sheriffs' Institute Programs, visit our website, www.sheriffsinstitute.org or simply google "Sheriffs' Institute kids" and it will be your first option. Financial support for many of the Sheriffs' Institute programs comes from Honorary Membership dues. Invitations for Honorary Membership are extended on a non-partisan basis, and the invitees are selected at random. Any persons interested in supporting the efforts of the New York State Sheriffs' Association Institute by becoming an Honorary Member should contact the Sheriff if they do not receive an invitation in the mail, or visit our web site at: www.sheriffsinstitute.org to download an application. All donations made to the New York State Sheriffs' Association Institute are tax deductible. In addition, Sheriffs' Institute is registered with the New York State Attorney General's Charities Bureau.

GOP APPEARS POISED TO TAKE ON ENTITLEMENTS, SOCIAL SECURITY, MEDICARE, If there's any place where tea partiers in Congress might hesitate to call for cuts in Social Security and Medicare to shrink the federal debt, Florida's retirement havens should top the list. Even here, however, Republican lawmakers are racing toward a spending showdown with Democrats.

POLITICAL SLANT -Frank Comando

Democrats are exhibiting little nervousness about the deep cuts, including those that eventually would hit benefit programs long left alone by politicians. In fact, many GOP freshmen seem bolder than ever. In southeast Florida last week, first-term GOP Rep. Allen West, a tea party favorite, called for changes that some might consider radical: abolish the Internal Revenue Service and federal income tax; retain tax cuts for billionaires, stop extending unemployment benefits. As for entitlements, West told a friendly town hall gathering in Coral Springs, if Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid "are left on autopilot, if we don't institute some type of reform, they'll subsume our entire GDP" by 2040 or 2050. GDP, or gross domestic product, measures the value of all goods and services produced in the United States.

Social Security is one of the largest federal programs, mainly benefiting retirees. Medicare provides health coverage for older people. Medicaid helps those with low incomes.

West, who is likely to draw serious Democratic opposition next year, showed scant interest in edging toward the center on anything? Their calls for changing Medicare and Social Security often lack specifics, and it's unclear whether the divided Congress will tackle the program's long-term problems or postpone action, as has happened many times before on Capitol Hill.

West's desire to slash spending seems to stop at his district's doorstep. The Coral Springs audience cheered loudly when he said he helped secure a $21 million grant for a new runway at the nearby Fort Lauderdale airport.

'Grant money is not pork," West said. He issued a press release saying the runway project "will generate at least 11,000 jobs" by 2014 and cost $791 million.

While West spoke in Coral Springs, several dozen Republicans had wine and hors d'oeuvres in Palm Beach as they awaited a speech by former New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani. There was ample sympathy in the room for rising the eligibility age for Social Security benefits.

Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid, D-Nev., says he opposes cuts in Social Security benefits. The centrist Democratic group Third Way says the public is ready to embrace gradual changes to entitlement programs and that Republicans are winning the issue so far.

Rep. Xavier Becerra (D-Calif.), vice chairman of the House Democratic Caucus, said that GOP tax cuts, combined with the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, are contributing much more significantly to the country's immediate fiscal imbalance than is Social Security.

Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop, Inc. Annouces a CASTING CALL for their Summer Musical Hairspray

Originally a cult classic John Waters film, 'Hairspray' was converted into a Musical in 1998 that took Broadway by storm! - 1962 - Tracy Turnblad is a "pleasantly plump" teenager who dreams of taking her love of dancing and desire to be famous to win a spot dancing on the "Corny Collins Show" Her mother, the plus-sized Edna Turnblad forbids her daughter to go to the audition because she fears her child will be ridiculed because of her size. But Tracy perseveres and ends up landing a role on her favorite show - and the heart of teenage heart throb, Link Larkin. When Tracy wins a role on the show, she becomes a celebrity overnight. She then launches a campaign to integrate the show. Hairspray is a social commentary on the injustices of parts of American society in the 1960s.

With a catchy score by Marc Shaiman and Scott Wittman, Hairspray is a feel-good musical with 60s style dance numbers and back street blues. "You can't stop the beat!"

Director - Lori Schneider-Wendt Musical Director - Scott Eckers; Auditions - Saturday, April 2, 2010 Sullivan County Museum - 265 Main Street, Hurleyville, NY from 2:00 pm - 5:00 pm; PRO-DUCTION DATES - First two weekends of August at the Rivoli Theatre in South Fallsburg, NY. Next Sunday is SONS Day! Sons and Daughters of the Desert - next Sunday, April 3rd, is our next meeting at Oasis 281, Them Thar Hills. April is our traditional "April Fools Guest Star" Month. As such, we will open with a classic Laurel & Hardy short, BRATS, and then present Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson in the film version of their Broadway Anarchy HELLZAPOPPIN'. BRATS features Stan and Ollie as themselves AND as their own children. The question is, which pair acts more childish! HELLZA-POPPIN' co-stars Martha Raye, Hugh Herbert, Robert Paige, Jane Frazee, Shemp Howard and many other film funmakers.

The meeting begins at 3:00pm. After the movies we'll form a conga line and head for Gaby's Mexican Cafe for dinner.

Also - our website http://www.themtharhills.org features a link to the recently-announced UCLA Restoration Project of the Hal Roach Laurel and Hardy Library. Check it out!

Knarf's "Classic Movie Trivia

ON THE BEACH (1959), another great film from the genius of Stanley Kramer. The story unfolds after a nuclear war, (which makes us think about major nuclear meltdowns such as Fukushima Daiichi, or the Chernobyl with added caution); in the film, U.S. sailors stationed in Australia deal with the end of civi-

Kramer. Starring Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Fred Astaire, Anthony Perkins, Donna Anderson, John Tate, Guy Doleman. This is a thoughtful version of Nevil Shute's novel about Australians awaiting effects of nuclear fallout from explosions that has depopulated the rest of the world. Good performances by all, including Astaire in his first dramatic role. Screenplay by John Paxton, this is a remade for cable TV in 2000, 134 min TV-PG, on TCM Saturday, April 2, 2011 3:30 PM,

A. Name another Kramer classic, this one starring Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier?

What's going on in the Gnome Gneighborhood<sup>TM</sup> this week?

Happy four hundred and fourteenth birthday to René Descartes. His most famous quote is "I think therefore I am." Born on the thirty-first day of March, in the year 1596 he was and is still considered as "a natural philosopher and writer" who spent most of his adult life in the Dutch Republic. He has been dubbed the "Father of Modern Philosophy," and subsequent Western philosophy is a response to his writings, which are studied closely to this day. In particular, his Meditations on First Philosophy continue to be a standard text at most university philosophy departments. Descartes' influence in mathematics is also apparent; the Cartesian coordinate system-allowing geometric shapes to be expressed in algebraic equations-was named after him. He is credited as the father of analytical geometry. Descartes was also one of the key figures in the Scientific Revolution.
